Ghana Sends In Military Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (AP)—Ghana today delivered the first token detachment for the international military force ordered by the U.N. Security Council to the chaotic Congo to help restore order.

Maj. Gen. Henry Alexander, British commander of Ghana's small army, and a small detachment of his troops set up headquarters in a downtown hotel to roars of approval from hundreds of Congolese gathered outside.

Resolution May Not Be Enough

Nikita May Call For Intervention By Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared today the United Nations resolution on The Congo may not be enough. He said the Soviet Union is ready to act "to halt the aggression" there "if those states which are carrying on direct aggressions against The Congo do not stop their criminal measures."

This was disclosed in a message from The Congo's President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Soviet news agency Tass quoted the Congo leaders as messaging Khrushchev Thursday "We will be compelled to ask for intervention by the Soviet Union if the Western camp does not desist from aggression."

In his message Khrushchev spoke of the U.N. resolution arranging for a U.N. force to go to The Congo.

"The Security Council did a useful thing in adopting a resolution calling for the withdrawal of the Belgian troops from The Congo."

If the aggression continues in spite of this decision, the Soviet government declares that the necessity would arise for both the United Nations and those peace-loving states which sympathize with The Congo to take more effective measures," the message said.

"If those states which are carrying on direct aggression against The Congo do not stop their criminal measures, the Soviet Union will not hesitate to take decisive measures to halt the aggression."

"All we are trying to do is to get everybody to put down their arms and not to do anything foolish or anything silly," a Ghanaian spokesman said.

Alexander, after a talk with U. N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, held a staff meeting in the hotel lobby.

The commander of the U. N. force, Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn, leaves Jerusalem by plane today for The Congo, bringing with him 11 military advisers of various nationalities, 5 radio technicians, and 5 security guards.

Tunisia dispatched an advance party of six police officers Thursday night. The North African country said it would send 500 soldiers.

Bunche said Thursday he expected perhaps 2,400 troops by early next week from Ghana, Tunisia, Morocco, Guinea, and Mali.

U. S. Air Force planes were expected to start landing at Leopoldville Airport with the first part of 300 tons of flour President Eisenhower Thursday ordered sent to the hunger-threatened new African nation.

Arrival of the first tiny U. N. detachment seemed to create a new and more relaxed atmosphere. Long lines of Belgian refugees in automobiles still waited to take the ferry across to Brazzaville, but there was an easier air about the city.

Some stores reopened and Congolese collected peacefully at their places of employment to get their monthly pay.

Belgian troops were still in control of the city and had fanned out over a large part of the country to which Belgium had given independence only two weeks ago.

Press Time Bulletins

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld announced that four plane loads of troops from Tunisia and Ghana arrived in Leopoldville today as a start of the U.N. force in the U.N.

Two Killed In Crash Near Versailles

Two Others Injured As Cars Collide Head-on on Route 5

John W. Burkholder, 53, brother of Roy Burkholder, Route 4, Sedalia, and James Curtis Crist, 58, both of Brookfield, were killed at 6:40 p.m. Thursday in a head-on collision of two cars about three miles north of Versailles on State Highway 5.

Two other persons, William Thomas Eckert, 17, Versailles, and his two-year-old sister, Bethene Sue Eckert, were severely injured. William Thomas reportedly suffered a broken leg and possible internal injuries, and Bethene Sue was believed to have suffered a fractured pelvis, bruises and lacerations of the face, and a scalp injury. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital in Jefferson City.

Burkholder and Crist were traveling together in a 1957 Buick Trooper Donald Slavin of the Highway Patrol investigating the accident, said Eckert told him he was driving southward. Eckert was driving a 1955 Ford.

Both cars were demolished. Slavin described the cars as "Torn up beyond recognition." Highway Patrolman Donald Slavin investigated the accident. The bodies of the victims were taken to the Kidwell Funeral Home, Versailles.

A coroner's inquest will be held sometime today in Versailles. Besides his brother of Sedalia, Burkholder is survived by a nephew, Bill Burkholder, Sedalia; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Burkholder, three brothers, and one sister, all of Brookfield; and one daughter of Kansas City.

Johnson Wins VP Nod

Dissent In Demo Circles

Party Liberals Are Bemoaning Johnson Selection

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy formally accepts the Democratic presidential nomination tonight, with party liberals bemoaning his endorsement of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate.

In a dramatic but highly traditional decision Thursday Kennedy compromised with the political realities of a threatened Southern "bolt" and wheeled in Johnson, the majority leader of the Senate, as his vice presidential nominee.

The Massachusetts senator took a practical step toward quieting a growing Dixie rebellion. But he repeated in return some protests from party liberals who felt they had been influential in his top-place nomination and deserved better of their efforts than a middle-of-the-road vice presidential candidate.

Kennedy could placate these dissenters, however, with a liberal acceptance speech tonight and the choice of one of this group to succeed Paul M. Butler as the party's national chairman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington was tabbed as a leading candidate for this job.

There was one report, quickly denied by both the Kennedy and Johnson camps, that Johnson was chosen at his own insistence. The report came from John S. Knight, publisher of the Knight newspapers, in a copyrighted story he wrote for his newspapers.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, described the report as "completely and absolutely untrue."

"Sen. Kennedy asked Sen. Johnson to run, and Sen. Johnson accepted," Salinger added.

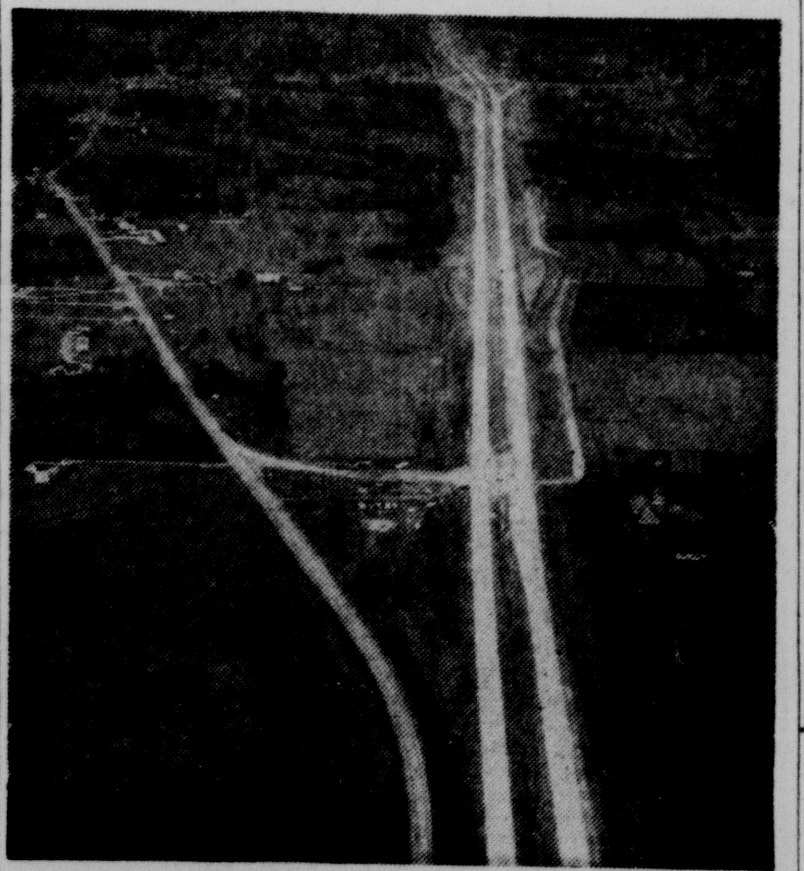

A spokesman for Johnson also said there was "absolutely nothing to the story."

Knight wrote that Johnson had passed the word to Sen. Kennedy's brother Robert that, having been defeated by Kennedy for the presidential nomination, he wanted second place and would fight for it on the floor of the convention if necessary.

Highway Opened

WARRENSBURG BY-PASS—This aerial view looks west over the new dual lane, relocated segment of U. S. Route 50, north of Warrensburg, which recently was opened to traffic. All of the 2.9 mile portion of the westbound lane, shown on the right, is now in use. About two miles of the eastbound lane are open. Shown near the top of the photograph is the Missouri Route 13 interchange. In conjunction with the U. S. Route 50 project, a new 1-mile segment of Route 13 was built leading north from Warrensburg. Much of that road also was built on re-location. Shoulder work and marking remain to be done both on the U. S. Route 50 and Route 13 project. The Clarkson Construction Co. of Kansas City and the Union Construction Co. of Kansas City, Kan., constructed both the roads. The contract for the U. S. Route 50 construction amounted to $1,322,706 and for the Route 13 work $200,500. Angling off to the left from the bottom towards the top of the photograph is old U. S. Route 50, through Warrensburg.

Lyndon B. Johnson

Truman and Morton

Republicans Hail Honored Prophets

CHICAGO (AP)—Republicans today hailed their own national chairman and Democrat Harry S. Truman as prophets who have been honored by fulfillment of their predictions.

GOP convention arrangers stated that: Their chairman, Thurston B. Morton, had asserted on June 30 that "it appears a deal has been made for a Kennedy-Johnson ticket at the rigged Democratic National Convention" and "Everything Harry Truman said about the convention being rigged has come true."

Headquarters for the Republican convention issued a statement saluting Morton as "the only major political figure in either party who publicly predicted the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in that order."

The Republicans also recalled that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who has been selected as the Democratic candidate for vice president on a ticket headed by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, plans to call Congress back into session next month "to give the Kennedy-Johnson ticket a political sounding board."

Johnson is Senate majority leader. Truman supported Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for his party's presidential nomination.

Letter Carriers Association Is Meeting Here

Speakers during the afternoon at the joint meeting held at the First Methodist Church were Floyd Huffman, Hume, Mo., national executive committeeman for the RNLC; Mrs. L. H. Golsen, Plattsville, Ala., national executive committeewoman of RNLC and Congressman Morgan M. Moulder, from the 11th District.

The speaker at the banquet to be held tonight at Whiteman AFB will be Ray L. Hulick, Rural Appointment and Post Office Change Division, Bureau of Operations, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

The convention will close Saturday morning with election of officers of both organizations.

Search Party Combs Woods for Lost Boy

CEDAR CREEK, Mo. (AP)—A search party combed the heavily wooded hills near this Ozark town Thursday night and early today for 8-year-old Donnie Hughey.

The boy disappeared Thursday afternoon from the home of relatives. Sheriff's officers said he was last seen about 3:30 carrying a small hatchet and accompanied by his dog.

Donnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hughey of Kansas City.

Sheriff Theron Gideon called a halt to the search shortly before 2 a. m. this morning but said it would be resumed at dawn.

Big Surprise For Demo Party

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 51, the Texan who is the Democratic leader of the Senate, stood out today as the big surprise of his party's 1960 convention.

The surprise was not that his bid for the presidential nomination failed; rather, it was that he is coming out of the convention as the vice-presidential candidate.

Few expected that he would accept second place on the ticket, even if it were offered to him, although he had never slammed the door on this possibility.

But there he was in the glare of the convention hall Thursday night, after his nomination, saying, "I am proud to stand beside and to stand behind the next President of the United States, Jack Kennedy."

What had happened after Kennedy, 43, Massachusetts senator, had soundly trounced him in the battle for the presidential nomination?

Thursday morning, Kennedy went to Johnson's suite and they talked over vice presidential possibilities. Kennedy sounded Johnson out on taking the number two spot on the ticket but didn't offer it to him.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson's fellow Texan and long-time political mentor, was opposed to Johnson's running for vice president, fearing it might be a dead end for him politically.

Johnson apparently let Kennedy know this because a short time later Kennedy slipped away to Rayburn's nearby hotel suite. In the end Rayburn was won over, but not without some reluctance.

After seeing Rayburn, Kennedy returned to his own hotel suite where Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, Carmine DeSapio of New York and other party leaders who played a major part in Kennedy's nomination were gathered.

Trotter's Protest Rejected

Cattle Valuation Increase to Stand, Robertson Says

The order of the Missouri State Tax Commission for County Assessor Jerry Trotter to increase by five per cent the assessed valuation of neat cattle in Pettis County, must stand according to James M. Robertson, chairman of the state commission.

This was indicated in a letter of reply to Assessor Trotter's protest of the blanket increase in a letter to the tax commission last week, which is as follows:

"Mr. Jerry E. Trotter, Assessor of Pettis County, Sedalia, Missouri: Dear Mr. Trotter:

"I am in receipt of your letter of July 8 relative to an increase of five per cent ordered by this commission on neat cattle in Pettis County."

"After taking an average of the assessments of 445 assessors in the State of Missouri, we find that your cattle are five per cent below the state average, and in view of the fact that it is the duty of the Tax Commission to equalize real and personal property between the various counties, our order must stand, therefore, the order directing you to increase neat cattle in Pettis County by five per cent is in effect and we will expect you to comply with the order."

"Sincerely yours, James M. Robertson, Chairman."

Amplifying the content of the directive, Mr. Robertson stated orally Thursday that blanket increases were being made similarly in 40 other Missouri counties where it had been determined that assessments were below the state average.

Trotter said Friday that, "I have stated my position and that is all I can do. We will have to comply with the order."

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By Ralph W. Loew D.D.
Written for Newspaper
Enterprise Assn.

You are riding in a satellite 560 miles out in space. You are traveling in an orbit at 18,000 miles an hour. You are sending back messages, making decisions, observing that which has been unknown. You are lonesome.

Hold Lord's Supper At First Baptist

At the Sunday morning worship hour, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the First Baptist Church.

The pastor, Rev. J. R. Wallace, will speak on the subject, "In Remembrance." A male quartet will sing, "My Jesus, I Love Thee."

The message for the evening service will be, "Knowledge and Service." The Church Choir will sing, "Follow, I Will Follow Thee."

The Men's Brotherhood will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. Charles Smethers, chairman of deacons, will be the speaker of the evening.

With increased emphasis being placed on teaching and training in the Sunday School during 1960, the Family Night activities on Wednesday will gradually bring more and more of the church family together for planning and Bible Study, Rev. Wallace said.

Superintendents meet at 7 p.m., lesson study is at 7:15 p.m., prayer and Bible study is at 7:15 p.m. for the monthly program meeting.

SPONSORS BIBLE SCHOOL

The First Baptist Church is sponsoring a Mission Vacation Bible School, being conducted at Jennie Jaynes Stadium, July 11-22. Assisting Rev. Sherman Bridgman in the Bible School are Miss June DeWitt, Mountain Grove, from the state Mission Board, and Miss Ann Garner, Gulf Port, Miss., from the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board. This is the prospect for mankind within a generation if scientists predictions come true.

If this seems incredible to most of us who are rooted in the planet, there is nothing unique about the loneliness of making decisions.

The diplomat at the conference table, the industrialist commanding the livelihood of thousands, the father making choices for his family, the aviator receiving the signal to take off in the million-dollar jet plane — all are caught in the common loneliness of their diverse set of circumstances.

Great decisions require the security of a stable faith which will sustain a person in lonesome moments.

Every individual is trapped in some set of circumstances and even if his orbit is not orderly it is at least continuous. If we send out muddled messages, acting as though we were unobservant, playing the role as though we were hysterical, there would be little meaning for the flight we call life.

There was an old saint who refused to accept all of this as a trap. He had seen life at its worst and he refused to be disillusioned. St. Paul shouted his signals back from his "orbit" of shipwrecks, imprisonments, betrayals and beatings, saying: "We then as workers together with God beseech you to hold fast to that which is good. Nothing can really separate you from the love of God."

This is the time to remember that our satellite is not beyond laws. Lonesomeness is liable to produce a kind of "what's the use?" psychosis. Then man feels sorry for himself he garbles the messages.

Although our generation knows more about rootlessness than civilization has known for many generations, this isn't the first time in history when people have been on the move.

The Ten Commandments were brought to civilization through a people wandering in the desert. The ancient prophets came out of their rootless environment to tell kings and priests that they were rooted in a status quo that was unaware of righteousness and justice.

It was a Man who was described as "having no place to lay his head" who taught the Sermon on the Mount.

Perhaps we've become grooved in the wrong orbit.

For most of us it's academic to wonder what's it like to ride in the satellite. We have today's decisions and they are important. There are moral problems to be solved morally. There are laws to understand instead of excusing ourselves as being somewhat better than our neighbors.

Most of all there is the comfort and the justice of the solemn fact that it is possible to ride through the events of this planet certain that we are caught in the orbit of God's concern.

Dick Monsees Warns Young GOP of Blitz

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Republican candidate for Missouri secretary of state told a meeting of the St. Louis Young Republicans Thursday night that "Kennedy and company, mostly the Kennedy family, blitzed the Democrats right off their feet."

The candidate, Dick G. Monsees, said he agreed with some Democratic leaders "who say John Kennedy is not the best qualified man for President." However, the Sedalia, Mo., farmer, warned Republican workers to be careful "lest Kennedy blitzkrieg us in November."

GOP candidates for state and local offices appeared by invitation before the political club. They declared that Kennedy's vast wealth helped him win the Democratic nomination and warned that he might be a difficult man to defeat.

County Nursing Service Steering Committee Meets

An informal coffee meeting was held Thursday morning in the Palm Room of the Bothwell Hotel in the interest of the Pettis County Nursing Service which will be voted on at the primary election August 2.

The meeting was presided over by B. E. Heacock, chairman of the steering committee for the Pettis County Nursing Service.

Talks were made by Fred Rector and Mrs. Eva Moen of the Division of Health of Missouri and Mrs. Gertrude Berlin, County health nurse.

Petitions with the required number of signatures to bring the continuance of the program to a vote were turned in to the County Court.

The amount needed, Rector stated, according to the estimate of the advisory committee, will be a half mill, but in case that proves too much, the tax may be lessened. This will be 50 cents on $1,000 assessed valuation.

Heacock pointed out that there has been an increase of between five and six thousand in the population of Pettis County in the past few years and the things that bring people to the county to live is the things it has to offer. "A health program is certainly one of the important things," he pointed out.

Mrs. Moen explained that the health staff will need help and she asked the cooperation of all present who were representatives from various health agencies.

Mrs. Berlin stressed the importance of a Nursing Service in Pettis County, and pointed out that counties all around us and all over the state have such a service.

"Health services," she said, "had been established in this county over a long period of years but had been discontinued since 1946. The Pettis County Court was interested in such a program but felt that it should be on a continuous basis, and thus must be brought to the vote of the people. In this way plans could be made for a five or ten year program in advance which provides the best service. Trustees will be appointed when the program has been accepted by the vote of the people and in November trustees will be elected," she concluded.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

John Fitzgerald Kennedy at 43 has become one of the two men America will choose from in selecting a leader to guide its destiny through an era which finds this country's economic supremacy and its security gravely challenged.

There can be no more than passing joy in his heart for the great triumph he has gained in winning the Democratic presidential nomination. For should he win the election this fall, upon his slender shoulders would descend the heaviest burdens any free world leader ever has been asked to carry in time of peace.

We do not know whether the current agitations of Soviet Premier Khrushchev mean we are edging closer to war or simply represent a new "manic" phase in Russia's constant off again-on again strategy for dealing with the free nations.

But certain it is that the long-range prospect for us and for all free men is a severe, unending competition with Russian and Chinese communism for supremacy on this earth. If we lose we will not survive free.

As a possible inheritor of the burdens that accompany this immense peril, Kennedy could have his mettle tested to the full.

No one can dare say whether he would measure up to the incredible tasks ahead, any more than it can be predicted that Vice President Nixon, the clear Republican choice, would successfully meet the challenge if he should be elected.

Americans must pray that both men are equal to the high demands that can be put on them. When Nixon is in fact nominated, that will be the time to assess his makeup and performance. This is the moment to look at Kennedy.

His most careful biographer finds him brilliant, tough, cool, detached, possessed of great drive and will. Throughout his life, says this man, he has demonstrated high capacity for growth, ability to grasp essentials and to master detail.

Some men distrust his detachment. Yet it is possible it could serve America and the free world well in a time of explosive emotionalism.

Some find in his coolness and his drive a calculating ambition, yet the man who reaches the White House really has only one thing left to calculate: how to be a good president.

Still, there can be no real advance verdict on how these qualities might be employed if Kennedy should win.

This much we know already: He is a master of politics.

Many observers believe the organization he put together to capture the nomination is the best in this century, superior even to that of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932.

Money helped, but it was not the key. Potential winners can always get money. Kennedy's success was in knowing what to do with money — and with men. The general appraisal is that his political judgment is of a high order.

The nation must hope that all his fundamental judgments — and Nixon's, too — are superior. For upon the judgments of one of these not too dissimilar young men may rest the future of free mankind.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Bitterness May Affect Legislation

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—A most important question to watch as an aftermath of the Democratic conclave here is whether the current backstage bitterness will affect the stack of unpassed bills waiting in the legislative hopper back in Washington.

The minimum wage bill, medical aid to the aged, a billion-dollar bill for schools and teachers' salaries all await passage. And the two key men who can control their passage are the gentlemen from Texas who were unmercifully whipped in almost every move made at this convention.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, behind-the-scenes campaign manager for Lyndon Johnson, is 78 years old and has been in Congress 47 years. He was whipped by a young upstart campaign manager for Senator Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy, who has never even run for office.

Senator Johnson is 52 years old, has been in national politics, either elective or appointive, for 25 years and has ruled the Senate for 10 years. He was outmaneuvered at every turn by a young senator from Massachusetts who has been in public life only 14 years.

Rayburn and Johnson are proud men. They are also sensitive. Underneath their smiles and affable handshakes lurk blazing tempers. That is one reason these gentlemen had to be mollified by astute Mr. Kennedy in selection of Senator Johnson as his running mate.

There's another factor which few people know about. George Meany, powerful AFL-CIO president, undercut Johnson in the backstage huddles in the hotel rooms of Los Angeles. In Washington, Johnson had worked closely with Meany in regard to the labor legislation. Meany's Capitol Hill lobbyist, Andy Biemiller, was in and out of Johnson's office like a shuttlecock during the Landrum-Griffin labor bill fight. But the AFL-CIO secretly threw its weight against Johnson in Los Angeles even for the job of vice president.

Just three weeks from now operations resume in Washington. The two bills the AFL-CIO wants passed most are minimum wages and medical aid for the aged. Johnson and Rayburn will largely control the fate of these bills.

Bobbies At Odds

The two Bobbies bumped into each other in the lobby of the Biltmore Hotel the other day—Bobby Kennedy, the tough, shrewd operator behind his brother's campaign, and Bobby Baker, smiling, equally shrewd South Carolinian who is Senate assistant to Lyndon Johnson.

Bobby Baker invited Bobby Kennedy to have breakfast with him. As the breakfast neared its end, Bobby Baker said to Bobby Kennedy:

"You know, Bobby, Lyndon doesn't mind any of these things you've been doing to him and saying about him except for just one thing."

"He couldn't quite forgive that story that was put out in Dallas, Houston and Austin just before the Democratic Texas convention that Lyndon Johnson had just died of a heart attack. The Houston Post got 3,000 phone calls in one day, and Lyndon just didn't think that was quite cricket."

"You don't mean to say you think we would do a thing like that," remonstrated Bobby Kennedy.

"When that story crops out in the three biggest cities of Texas on exactly the same day, one day before the Texas convention and your brother Teddy is in Texas," replied Baker, "what do you expect us to think?"

Bobby Kennedy slammed two dollars on the table to pay for his share of the breakfast and walked out.

So, despite the smiling poses for the cameras, a lot of deep wounds will have to be healed among the candidates.

Behind the Stars

The man who supplied most of the movie stars for the dazzling parties that were thrown for the Democratic bigwigs in Los Angeles was Jules Stein, who started out as a Chicago optician but gave up eye-doctoring for the band-book business. He now runs the largest talent agency in the world, Music Corporation of America, which supplies NBC with most of its packaged TV shows.

Stein collected the cream of the movie colony for his own Sunday-night dinner to promote the political career of his son-in-law, William Van Den Heuvel, who is running for Congress in New York. Such stars as Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Henry Fonda and Danny Kaye turned up to help Stein put his son-in-law across with leading Democrats.

Convention Footnotes

Seen and heard around convention lobbies: Philip Wilkie, son of the GOP candidate who staged the greatest blitz of all time, wearing Nixon buttons and sipping coffee in Symington headquarters. Young Wilkie is running for Indiana superintendent of schools on the Republican ticket, couldn't miss the Democratic jamboree. . . . Old Joe Kennedy and Congressman John McCormack of Boston urged that Jack Kennedy take Lyndon Johnson as his vice-presidential running mate.

Inside the New York caucus, Dr. Raymond Jones, prominent Negro physician, voted against Kennedy for Johnson. The Harlem vote is reported by no means solid for Kennedy. Chairman Paul Butler lost three of his staff, including his private secretary, during the convention. They couldn't take it. . . . Col. Tom Parker, who manages rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley, wandered among the Democratic delegates handing out Lyndon Johnson buttons. . . . In a private memo to national committee members, chairman Butler included this word on political payola: "A brand new General Motors automobile, white in color, bearing a decal for the convention and your name and state, will be assigned to each member of the national committee. A driver thoroughly acquainted with the Los Angeles area will be assigned with the car, and the driver will be available to the member to whom he is assigned for the duration."

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

REMEMBER—Have we truly exerted our great spiritual and national power to halt the march toward One - World Communist Government—to preserve our great American heritage?

Remember Hungary, Korea, China, Turkey! And now Cuba and Japan!

Remember the bitter complaints about foreign policy in previous Administrations? But just what has the appeasement policy of the last few years achieved? We are spending twice as much in foreign aid a year as we did in 1950, despite our acting as host to Khrushchev.

Do the wining, dining and diplomatic personality travels heighten our stature as a nation? In Moscow, Van Cliburn, the piano player, is cheered by thousands. But our President is not wanted.

Remember, too: We still have the largest supply of gold. BUT if foreign short-term creditors demanded gold, as they have the right to do, the results would be staggering. We are simply gambling on top of a powder keg.

Would that we heeded our Founding Fathers' warnings about keeping out of debt!

Several years ago ex-President Hoover told America's youth: "Some day you will inherit all the homes and farms; stores and factories; and churches and schools in the United States, and you will need to look after these, too. But if you have good government, you will find in all these places good jobs, great opportunities and comfortable living."

This is the GOOD GOVERNMENT we must strive to recapture.

Political and Personal Fish Frying

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president fries a couple of kinds of fish, political and personal.

For years Johnson, 51, has shown signs of aching for the presidential nomination. Therefore, seeing it go this week to Kennedy, eight years his junior, must have been a shattering blow.

The fact that Johnson, at Kennedy's request, would accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket looks bewildering at first glance. It makes sense when you lift the lid on this strange political pot and look inside.

Johnson, as Senate leader of the Democrats, for years has had one of the most important and powerful jobs in the country. What he wanted was the most powerful job of all, the presidency.

Compared with either one of them, the vice presidency is a shadowy situation.

A vice president traditionally simply presides over the Senate, votes only to break tie votes on the floor, and runs errands for the president.

Johnson, whose Senate term is up this year, without question could be re-elected by Texas and retain his Senate leadership. He still is expected to run for the Senate as well as the vice presidency.

But this happens to be a touchy year in the national political scene.

The South, as it showed at the Democratic convention, was restive and balky over the very liberal civil rights platform plan shoved down its throat by the rest of the convention delegates.

There was a good chance the South in next November's elections would be a lot less than wholehearted in its support of the Democratic ticket headed by Kennedy.

By getting Johnson to run with him, Kennedy went a long way toward pacifying the South, which is where Johnson had his main backing in his unsuccessful bid for the presidential nomination.

So from a political standpoint it makes sense to put Johnson on the ticket as Kennedy's running mate.

But there's a personal element in this.

Washington newsmen who have dealt with Johnson for years know he has a gigantic ego. This is precisely why Kennedy's victory over him must have cut the Texan deeply.

It would hardly seem sensible for a man, dressed in the tremendous robes of power worn by a Senate leader, to give up that job for the comparatively less influential post of vice president.

But Johnson, who has talked with newsmen at great length about the nice things said of him over the years, could feel particularly honored if the voters chose him for a job just one heartbeat away from the presidency.

There is more. Johnson, a tremendous manipulator of men, could use the vice presidency in a way not attempted by others who have held that job. He could try to hold the reins of power in the Senate even though someone else succeeded to his present title as Democratic leader.

That's one point. As vice president he would not only sit in the president's Cabinet but also be a member of the National Security Council, the most influential and powerful single group in the executive branch of the government.

Thus Johnson, as vice president, could be a powerhouse in both the legislative and executive branches of the government to a degree never before attempted, even by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Knowing Johnson, it seems correct to say that while he has been denied a chance at the most powerful single position in the country, the presidency, he would use the vice presidency in such a way that he would be indisputably the second most powerful man.

There is one other consideration in all this. A Kennedy-Johnson ticket will have a two-edged appeal to voters next November.

Liberals and intellectuals, labor and Negroes, will be able to support a ticket headed by Kennedy. Conservatives can feel that the conservative Johnson, even though he has a fairly liberal record himself, will be a restraining force within the government if the Democrats win.

Add all the pieces together, and it's quickly understandable why Kennedy asked Johnson to be his running mate, why Johnson so quickly accepted, and why the convention so quickly approved.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A new 4-H club in the Postal neighborhood named the "Willing Workers" was formed at a meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Conway. Officers elected were: President, Clara Belle Taylor; Vice-president, Marcia McCorkle; Secretary, Reba Biggs; Song and Yell Leader, Christeen Taylor; Reporter, Lucille King.

One was 30 years old and she had an inflammation of her pelvic organs.

The second was a 65-year-old who'd had a cold that had hung on for 10 days.

The third was a 21-year-old in the eighth week of a pregnancy that was complicated by pain in the appendix region of her abdomen and some bleeding.

Each of the three was given a shot of penicillin. In each instance, the injection was made into a deep muscle. The two older women died almost instantaneously. The young pregnant woman survived for approximately 25 minutes.

The physicians who made this report and the editors of the journal who published it deserve a special citation for their honesty and courage.

No one knows how many similar tragedies have occurred throughout the world, leaving the medical profession and the public none the wiser.

What makes this report the more appalling is the fact that none of the three women was in such imminent danger that injection treatment was warranted. Two of the three, indeed, may never needed penicillin at all.

All three might still be alive

FORTY YEARS AGO

Right Rev. Joseph S. Glass, bishop of Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived here for a short visit with his cousin, E. G. Cassidy and family before going to Chicago.

1920

Mrs. H. Spencer Edmunds left for Trenton, N. J. to visit her parents until the first of August when she will be joined by her husband the Rev. Mr. Edmunds, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church. They will then visit during the month of August at points in the south and east.

Parents, Are You Teaching Children to Handle Money?

By FAYE HENLE

Is life being made too easy for Johnny and Susie?

Admit it or not, if you are a parent this is probably one of your chief worries.

If you earned your bike selling magazine subscriptions, there is a two-to-one chance you went out and bought your child's two-wheeler.

Among girls of junior high school age, 70.1 per cent get all their spending money from an allowance, 12.6 per cent get all of it from part-time work, 17.3 per cent from a combination of work and allowance. These girls spend on the average of $3.22 per week; save $1.19 weekly.

By the time baby blows out a first birthday candle, it's safe to bet the average proud parent has laid out a minimum of $800 on a wide array of food and other products.

And, if Johnny and Susie have hit junior and senior high school age, there are figures to prove that on their own, they control six billion dollars of annual spendable income.

Of junior high school boys studied, 52.7 per cent get their money entirely from an allowance, 27.4 per cent must earn it all, 19.9 per cent have part-time jobs and also get an allowance. These boys spend an average of $3.67 a week; save $1.76.

What's more, no one dares estimate what portion of your discretionary income — now hitting an annual 120.5 billion dollars — is spent on your youngster's needs and whims. It is well known that his influence on your buying is great. The big question is this: At what moment in a child's life should you expect him to understand and appreciate the purchasing power of the dollar and be able to relate it to the family budget? And, what are you doing about this?

When it comes to senior high, 35.3 per cent of the boys still get all their dollars handed out and 54.7 per cent of the girls do. In contrast, 46 per cent of the boys earn all their spending money while only 26.7 per cent of the girls do. Collecting allowances and working for pay are 18.7 per cent of the senior high boys and 18.6 per cent of the girls.

My six-year-old, perhaps sadly, is so indoctrinated in thrift that she hasn't the slightest intention of spending that quarter the good fairy left under her pillow when her first baby tooth fell out. But her 10-year-old brother is a big spender. He's even got it figured so he wants to be paid for baby-sitting for himself!

Senior high school boys spend an average of $7.48 weekly, save $4.03 while the girls spend $4.98 a week and save but $1.87.

The Youth Market Consumer Survey of Scholastic Magazine has come up with some interesting figures on the earning, saving and spending habits of teen-agers that you may wish to compare with the pattern in your family. They report:

Senior high school boys spend an average of $7.48 weekly, save $4.03 while the girls spend $4.98 a week and save but $1.87.

"What is the significance of these figures?" I asked Carl F. Hawver of the National Consumer Finance Assn., whose quarterly bulletin released these figures.

Carl's kids are older than mine and he knows lots more about children and what's being taught in the schools about finance. He feels that our educational system is letting us down by not teaching enough about money matters.

Guess Whose Vanity Shows In Camera's Sharp Focus

"Men are much more vain than women," a photographer who specializes in taking men's pictures once confided to me.

"And," she continued, "the most difficult men to photograph are middle-aged men."

"That is because they want the impossible. They want to look as young and handsome as they looked in their twenties. But they also want to have 'character' in their faces."

Democrat Pick-ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A WOMAN WHO was going to speak at a men's club telephoned the office of the man she thought was going to introduce her. The office girl answered and told her the man was not there.

"Take out the lines that make them look middle-aged and you also take out the lines that give character and distinction to their faces. It's impossible to give them all they ask for."

"I wonder," said the woman, "if you will give him this information about me. He will need it for the introduction."

The office girl was glad to do it and took it all down. Then the man came in and she told him about the call.

"Women aren't such a problem. Make a woman look a little prettier than she sees herself in a mirror, or make her look a little younger than she is and she is happy."

"I'd be only too happy to introduce her," he told his office girl. "Only I won't be there. I don't belong to that organization."

The woman had gotten hold of the wrong man, who had the same last name of the man who was supposed to introduce her.

But the man and his office girl knew who she had thought she was calling so she merely called the office of the other man and gave the information to him.

— H. L.

Maybe the reason women are easier than men to photograph is simply because women are more realistic about their looks.

matter of FACT

"In this country," said the cowboy, "we climb for water and dig for wood." The cowboy wasn't joking. Settlers in the southwestern part of the United States found a source of water was the root of the mesquite tree. The windmill which pumped water to the surface sometimes didn't get enough wind to draw water, and the Westerner had to climb the windmill and turn the wheel.

Science Show Is Presented For Kiwanis

Science came alive in demonstrations and understandable language when Don Goode and James J. Blumel of General Motors Public Relations staff presented "Previews of Progress," before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The program was staged to dramatize science's key role in industrial progress under America's free economy, and gave Kiwanians an idea of the work being done in the research laboratories of America.

Included in the demonstrations was a miniature automobile that actually can be powered by sunlight, a roaring jet engine, synthetic rubber that leaps from a pop bottle, "liquid sunshine" which provides power for a portable radio, and principles of a whirling gyroscope.

This program is in great demand during school year since the Previews' purpose is to quicken interest in science and inspire more young people to make science their career.

The program spokesmen were introduced by Vice-President William Schien.

President John Ryan announced that on August 15 the Sedalia club would be host to District Governor Joe Mueller, St. Louis, at a dinner meeting to which members' ladies are invited in Bothwell Hotel.

Invocation was by Robert Fritz. Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Robert Overstreet, Jr., accompanist. Birthday anniversary greeting was extended to Phil McLaughlin.

Guests were William Hoehns with Jack Shoemaker; and Ed Fagot, Lafayette, La., with his brother-in-law, Dick Dean.

State Delegates Feelings Mixed On Demo Ticket

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Missouri's delegation will go home from the Democratic national convention with mixed feelings about the ticket to lead them in the 1960 general election campaign.

"It is a fine ticket," said Gov. James Blair Jr. of the combination of Sen. John Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon Johnson for vice president. "I think we can carry the state."

Many members of the delegation were disappointed over the selection of Johnson, rather than Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington as Kennedy's running mate. Symington unsuccessfully sought the presidential nomination.

"I may be selfish but we needed Symington somewhere on that ticket to help us out on the county and local levels," said state Rep. Thomas Wash of St. Louis. "Johnson doesn't add anything to the ticket for Missouri."

Some fear the Kennedy-Johnson team may have tough sledding in rural Missouri and that it might have an adverse effect on county and local Democratic tickets.

They base this primarily on Kennedy's Catholic religion.

Kennedy admitted that Symington and several others had broad support for vice president. But he apparently didn't discuss the matter with Symington personally.

One Kennedy aide said Symington's campaign for the presidency didn't stir up much excitement and noted Symington refused to withdraw even when it was obvious he had no chance of winning the top prize.

Symington had indicated all along he wasn't interested in the vice presidency but so had Johnson.

Symington termed Kennedy's selection of Johnson as excellent. He said Johnson will add much to the ticket and promised to "do all in my power to help both nominees."

Some Missouri delegates went home Thursday. Blair and others will stick it out through tonight's final convention session.

Four Indicted By Grand Jury For Kill Plot

KANSAS CITY (A.) — Four men were indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of conspiracy in the attempted murder of a witness in a narcotics case.

The four were Anthony J. Biase, 52, Omaha; Anthony John (Tiger) Cardarella, 34, Kansas City; Felix (Little Phil) Ferina, 34, Kansas City, and Carlton A. Young, Kansas City, Kan.

They were accused in connection with the ambush shooting of Kenneth Bruce Sheetz, 39, ex-convict, at his Kansas City home on June 20.

Sheetz testified before a federal grand jury that indicted Biase in Omaha on March 22 on eight narcotics charges.

The federal grand jury in Kansas City charged the four defendants conspired to prevent Sheetz from testifying against Biase in the latter's trial.

The indictment alleged that Cardarella, accompanied by Ferina, fired six shots at Sheetz, who was hit three times.

The same grand jury indicted Biase Wednesday on a charge of using interstate communications in the illicit trade of narcotics. He posted a $15,000 bond on that charge.

Cardarella and Ferina were indicted by a Jackson County grand jury Tuesday on a charge of attempted murder in the Sheetz case. They each posted $50,000 bond on that charge Wednesday.

Edward L. Scheufler, U. S. District attorney, recommended that bond for Biase and Young be set at $20,000 each when they are arraigned, and $50,000 each for Ferina and Cardarella on the new federal charges. U. S. District Judge R. Jasper Smith said he believed the bond for Biase also should be $50,000.

The grand jury also returned 13 indictments charging Kansas City business places with failing to pay $250 federal gambling stamps while operating gaming devices, mostly pinball machines.

Scheufler said the jury will be called back in a few weeks to resume work on some old cases and take up some new ones.

Hole Is Ripped In Tanker Hull; Oil Pours Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A hole was ripped in the hull of an oil tanker early today, and heavy fuel oil from its 22,575-ton cargo spilled into the East River at a spot near the United Nations building.

The 603-foot Panamanian tanker Alkaid hit an unidentified submerged object while bound upstream.

The captain ran his ship to the Manhattan shore, and it was tied to the sea wall with its decks awash.

The ship listed 14 degrees to starboard as oil poured from the hole in the hull on the port side under the water line.

An oil slick spread across the river between Manhattan and Queens.

Fireboats and fire apparatus on shore stood by as the oil spread. Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Conatrustano said, however, that there was little danger of fire from the heavy fuel oil, not as inflammable as lighter oils such as gasoline.

No one was reported injured.

Convention Viewers Add Amen to That

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This has been called the age of inattention, and home viewers of the 1960 Democratic National Convention might say amen to that.

"Clear the aisles! We must have order! Will the delegates take their seats!"

Those were the most-heard words at the Sports Arena, more heard than even "the man who" and "the next president of the United States."

All three networks report that they have received many complaints from viewers about the rudeness to speakers at the convention. Citizens said they were shocked to see delegates and spectators talking, reading, and even sleeping while distinguished Americans were addressing them.

Convention Chairman LeRoy Collins has almost gavelled a hole in the pounding block in an effort to gain order.

"This is just an extension of the House or the Senate," explained convention director J. Leonard Reinsch, who was not alarmed at the situation. "When a man is speaking in the Senate, you see his colleagues reading newspapers. When there is something that everyone wants to hear, you get quiet."

At first, the TV commentators blamed the noisiness on the acoustics in the brand-new Sports Arena. But on Wednesday night something strange happened. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt came to the podium, and the entire arena hushed. She almost could have spoken without a loudspeaker.

The acoustics weren't at fault. Other things were, and not merely the congressional habit of ignoring speakers. Among them:

1. The business of politics. It goes on all the time on the convention floor. Politicians gab and shake hands and confer and take votes with casual disregard of what is happening on the podium.

2. The quality of the speeches. TV viewers have learned early that they can't look at national conventions with the expectation of hearing much that is fresh and incisive and well-spoken. Delegates are even more immune to oratory.

3. The immensity of the meeting. The mere vastness of the Sports Arena makes it difficult for anyone to hold the interest of 15,000 human beings.

4. The TV crews. The networks themselves must take some of the blame for the hoopla on the convention floor. They are competing fiercely with each other. Their portable cameras, called creepies, prowl the aisles for news beats. To this date, no living politician has passed up a chance to appear on TV.

But the basic fault may lie, as some social observers claim, with an era in which it's hard to get anyone to concentrate on anything. Folks are dinned on all sides to buy deodorants, get out the vote, drive safely, etc., so that they shut their minds to all but the most urgent appeals.

Mathews Leads War Party

Cast Aside Slumps, Trim Bucs' Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ed Mathews was in a slump so bad he was even talking about it. Milwaukee's slugging third baseman hadn't hit a home run in 19 games, and his batting average was down to .266 with just two hits in 27 trips.

The second-place Braves were stumbling along the same way, losing 11 of their last 19 games. What's worse, they had managed to beat first-place Pittsburgh just three times in 13 tries. And they were 0-4 against little lefty Harvey Haddix of the Pirates.

They buried the slumps and the Haddix jinx but good Thursday night, winning 4-0 at Pittsburgh as Mathews walloped a home run a triple and a double while driving in three runs behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette's neat, ninth-inning relief.

The loss, coming in a make-up game while the rest of the major league clubs were resting after the All-Star games, trimmed the Pirates' lead to four games again. It was during the All-Star games, which don't count in regular season statistics, that Mathews mentioned the slump he was trying to shake—and showed signs of shaking it by belting a two-run homer in Wednesday's 6-0 victory over the American League at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Oddly, the left-handed hitting Mathews broke the slump against three left-handed pitchers. It was Yankee Whitey Ford who gave up his All-Star jolt, and it was Haddix and reliever Fred Green who were tagged for his extra-base hits at Pittsburgh.

Billy Bruton, Del Crandall and Mathews each had three of the Braves' 15 hits against the Pirates, and a dozen off 'em were off Haddix, now 6-5.

Bruton's leadoff single and Mathews' double gave the Braves a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Then, with Bruton on base again,

Mathews walloped his 17th home run in the fifth inning. It was the seventh ever to clear the roof of the double-deck right field stands at Forbes Field, and the second Mathews has sent over that barrier.

The Braves got their final run in the ninth, when Mathews tripped and scored on Joe Adcock's squeeze bunt.

Buhl (9-3) won his fourth in a row on the fourth try. He gave up singles by Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski in the first three innings, but then no-hit the Bucs until the ninth, when Skinner and Dick Stuart singled for the Pirates' last-inning rallies.

But Burdette then came on and shut 'em up, retiring Roberto Clemente, Smokey Burgess and Don Hoak in order for the Pirates' third defeat in the last five games and their ninth in the last 17.

While the Braves move on to Philadelphia and Cincinnati pulls into Pittsburgh tonight, the rest of the NL gets back to business after the All-Star picnic with third-place Los Angeles at San Francisco and Chicago's Cubs at St. Louis.

The Dodgers, hottest club in the NL at the moment, go with Don Drysdale (6-10) against the Giants' Sam Jones (11-8). The world champions have won six of their last seven and have lost just three of the last 14. The Giants, tied with St. Louis for fourth place, have dropped five of their last six.

Big Money Horse Races For Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Moneywise, the most important horse races Saturday are the Monmouth Handicap and the Hollywood Gold Cup, both $100,000 plus events.

But from a speed viewpoint, look for the big news to come out of Arlington Park, where the $50,000 added Equipoise mile will be raced for the 21st time.

Year after year the Equipoise has produced speedy performances, although none quite as fast as when Equipoise himself lowered the world mile record to 1:34.2-5 under 128 pounds at Arlington Park in 1932. There the record stood until Swaps picked up 128 and raced the mile in 1:33.1-5 at Hollywood Park four years ago.

A year ago the Brookfield Farm's Intentionally, racing in the Arch Ward Memorial at Arlington, matched Swaps' time while carrying 121 pounds. Now 4, Intentionally is back for Saturday's Equipoise mile with a weight assignment of 126.

The long-striding black son of Intent has been out only once this year. In that start he easily won the six furlongs of the Toboggan Handicap at Belmont Park. For 21 starts, the Brookfield colt has a record of 11 victories, five seconds and two thirds for earnings of $487,287.

Intentionally, who'll be ridden by Bill Hartack, is expected to draw his chief opposition from a field that includes fleet Nasrullah, 122; Duncie, 121; Alhambra 113; Little Tytus, 113; and Olymra, 114.

Calumet Farm's eccentric On-and-On was assigned 122 pounds for the Equipoise after winning the Arch Ward Memorial in 1:09.1-5 last Saturday.

But trainer Jimmy Jones decided to pass up the Arlington race in favor of the 1 1/4-mile Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park. On-and-On gets in the rich Monmouth stake with 120 pounds, three less than C. T. Chenery's top-weighted First Landing. If as many as eight start, the Monmouth will gross $11,000 with the winner netting $71,000. The race will be televised by NBC from 4:30-5 p.m. EST.

Howard Keck's Bagdad, top-weighted under 122 pounds, heads a field of eight entered in the Hollywood Gold Cup. The 1 1/4-mile test carries a guaranteed gross value of $162,100 with $100,000 net to the winner. Willie Shoemaker rides Bagdad in quest of his fourth Gold Cup victory.

The probable favorite is C. V. Whitney's Dotted Miss. She has won three straight at Hollywood

Duel with Truax Goes Extra Hole In Trans-Miss.

WICHITA (AP) — Bob Cochran, 47-year-old master of the fairways from St. Louis, was a prime contender for the Trans-Mississippi Golf championship going into Friday's quarter-finals—but only after a wacky finish in his third round match.

Cochran and his opponent, Jerry Truax, were even after a tremendous 18-hole duel.

On the first extra hole, a 410-yard dogleg, both he and Truax pulled tee shots toward a line of trees extending to the fairway.

Cochran's ball got through the trees but nestled at the base of a small pine.

Players, caddies, officials and galleryites searched for the Truax ball before someone spotted it—wedged in the crotch of a hedgeapple tree about 12 feet off the ground.

The 22-year-old Canadian, who plays golf for New Mexico University, dropped his ball out and took a one-stroke penalty. An official told him to drop it again. He did.

This time Cochran didn't like it. Truax had an opening through the trees to the green, 155 yards distant.

After a hassle, Truax dropped his ball again—about 50 yards back toward the tee—and knocked a 5-iron shot over the green.

Cochran managed to get out from under his tree and whacked a wedge from the rough to the left edge of the green.

Truax had a difficult chip, went 25 feet past the cup and missed his putt. Cochran chipped within two feet and dropped his putt for a bogey five and a 19th-hole victory.

The veteran St. Louis player, runnerup to Joe Carr in this year's British Amateur, meets Jacky Cuptit of Houston University's crack golf team today.

Cuptit fired sub-par golf in outting Irl Oliver of Kansas City and Herb Durham of Dallas in Thursday's brutal second and third rounds on the 6,640-yard par 70 Wichita Country Club layout.

Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., the tourney favorite, slipped by a pair of tough opponents—Hank Edwards of Oklahoma City and Fred Brown of Los Angeles. Beman took on the Oklahoma champion, Glen Fowler, today.

Dean Smith of Wichita faces long hitting Ed Hopkins of Abilene, Tex., and Labron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla., takes on Charles Coody of Stamford, Tex. Harris is the 18-year-old son of the Oklahoma State University golf coach and a member of the OSU golf team. Coody is 23.

Coons Drops 18 on Strikes

Chiefs Alert for 11 Innings To Turn Back Tipton, 4-3

The Sedalia Chiefs had to go 11 innings before turning back a strong Tipton nine, 4-3, in a fine pitchers' duel. Sedalia's ace, Jim Coons, went the entire 11 innings. He sent 18 Tipton hitters to the dugout on strikes, walked only one and gave up seven scattered hits. Tipton's Rowles also went the entire route, fanning 14 Chiefs, walking one and allowing nine hits.

Sedalia scored one run in the eighth. The deciding, tally came in the bottom half of the 11th when Larry Shepherd singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch and finally scored on Bob Howard's double to right.

The Chiefs will play league leading Lowry City at 8 p.m. Sunday at Liberty Park.

QUEBEC (AP) — The United States Davis Cup team starts the long road back today with Bernard Barten and Barry McKay carrying the American hopes in the opening singles matches against Canada in the first round of the American Zone competition.

Bartzen, 32, Dallas, Tex., veteran of the team which will try to gain back the coveted trophy lost to Australia last September, takes on Bob Bedard in the opening match on the clay courts of the Civil Employees Tennis Club. The second match sends McKay, 24, of Dayton, Ohio, against Don Fontana.

"We got the break in the draw," said U. S. Team Capt. David Freed. "I think we'll win the first two matches."

Freed, who succeeded Perry Jones as captain of the U. S. team, said he figured the two countries might have split the opening singles if the draw had gone the other way.

"Bedard would have had a good chance to beat McKay but Barten," he said. "Bartzen's will power and steadiness are hard to beat."

Bartzen and McKay switch opponents for the other singles Sunday. The doubles will be played Saturday with Bedard and Fontana the likely Canadian team.

However, Freed has not decided on the U. S. team. If Earl Buchholz of St. Louis has fully recovered from an old ankle injury he'll likely pair with Chuck McKinley, also of St. Louis. If not, Bartzen and McKay probably will get the call.

The winner of the best-of-five matches meets Mexico in the second round. New Zealand and British West Indies were to start their first round match today to determine the second round opponent for Venezuela.

Out of the American Zone will come the opponent for the Philippines, Eastern Zone winner, with the winner taking on the European Zone champion.

The European Zone is getting down to its finalists this weekend. Italy took the first two singles matches from Britain Thursday and is favored to move into the finals against either Sweden or France, which start play in Stockholm today.

Weekend Fishing Forecast

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Fishing conditions are generally good through Missouri, the Conservation Commission reported today.

Most streams, muddied by locally heavy rains during the past week, are clearing. Best catches are being caught in the early morning hours, during the evening and at night.

Northwest Missouri — Grand, Platte, 102 and Nodaway rivers at normal or near normal levels. Natural baits, bank lines luring channel cat. Largemouth bass, bluegill biting in farm ponds and community lakes.

West central Missouri — Upper Osage, Sac and Pomme de Terre rivers slightly off color, but producing fair catches of channel cat, carp and sunfish. Strip-pits clear, in good condition and fairly productive of black bass.

Bull Shoals Lake — Normal. White bass, crappie hitting minnows, best at night. Black bass being taken on top water lures.

Lake of the Ozarks — Mostly clear, slightly off color near the Bagnall Dam. Crappie biting good, but running small. White bass, walleye picking up. Trot lines productive in channel cat.

Lake Taneycome — Normal. Trout, bluegill biting good, artificial lures attracting black bass.

Table Rock Lake—Slightly below full power pool, but clear. Top lures taking black bass. Bluegill biting on worms.

Montrose Lake — Slightly dingy. Natural baits getting fair catches of crappie, bluegills, channel cat. Large mouth bass biting under-water lures.

Trimble Lake — Slightly dingy, otherwise normal. Bluegill, channel cat, bluegills biting worms. Largemouth bass being taken on under-water lures.

James A. Reed area — Lakes slightly dingy. Channel cat popular. Artificial bait attractive to black bass.

Trout areas — Bennett Spring, Roaring River and a Meramec Spring normal. Trout fishing good.

Topeka Boy Wins KC Tennis Singles

KANSAS CITY (AP) — John Grantham, 16, Topeka, won the boys singles championship of the Kansas City Open Tennis Tournament Thursday with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over Lance Burr of Salina.

It was the sixth time this year Grantham has beaten the 17-year-old Burr.

Tom Maxeiner of St. Louis defeated Todd Ballinger of Kansas City 6-1, 6-3 for the title among boys 15 and under. In the division for boys 13 and under, Gerry Perry of Springfield, Mo., defeated Eddie Shelton of Ponca City, Okla., for the crown.

Nancy Freeman of Omaha won the championship for girls 18 and under by beating Sandy Shelton of Ponca City 4-6, 6-2, 8-6. Marjorie Ringwalt of Omaha defeated Shirley Middleton of Kansas City 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 for the title for girls 15 and under.

Yankees Still on Top

Resumes Pennant Scrap In Return From Obscurity

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League begins its battle back from obscurity (that's a joke, Charlie) tonight, resuming the pennant scrap to decide who gets a crack at saving face against the National League in the World Series.

If you've forgotten how things stood before the AL was laid out by the NL All-Stars, the New York Yankees are on top, leading Cleveland by 2 1/2 after dropping three straight at Boston. Chicago's defending champion White Sox are third, three games back, with Baltimore fourth, another length behind.

The only game scheduled Thursday in the majors was a make-up at Pittsburgh, where second place Milwaukee defeated the Pirates 4-0 and cut their National League lead to four games.

Going into the opener of a four-game series at Detroit tonight, Yankee Manager Casey Stengel mentioned the possibility of resting Roger Maris, the ailing thumper who leads the majors with 27 home runs. The young right fielder also led the AL in utility, leaving seven men on base, in Wednesday's All-Star game shut-out by the NL.

It's probable, however, that both Maris, bothered by a sprained wrist, and sore-legged Mickey Mantle will be in the lineup against Tiger lefty Don Mossi (7-6). Right-hander Art Ditmar (7-3) is the Yankee choice. He has lost two in a row after winning five straight.

The Indians, who play three with New York beginning Monday, get back to business against fired-up Washington. Right-hander Pedro Ramos (5-9) goes for the Senators, who have tied Detroit for fifth place (8 1/2 games behind) after winning three in a row at Baltimore. The Nats have won seven of their last eight — since dropping three straight to the Indians.

Right-hander Jim Perry (9-4) is Cleveland's starting pitcher as the Age vs. Youth In Final Rounds Of Public Links

HONOLULU (AP) — Regardless of the outcome of today's 36-hole semifinals in the 35th annual National Amateur Public Links Golf Tournament, Saturday's 36-hole final will be a battle of age against youth and possibly an all-Michigan affair.

Victors in Thursday's quarterfinals were Verne Callison, 41, a Sacramento, Calif., tavern owner; Mike Andonian, 34, a Pontiac, Mich., math teacher; Bob Mc-Masters, 25, a Royal Oak, Mich., salesman, and Ty Caplin, East Lansing, Mich., a 23-year-old student of Michigan State University who "played hockey" from summer school to make the tournament.

Callison, one of California's best amateurs, plays Andonian in today's first semifinal, rated the top match of the day.

Andonian traveled the roughest road to semi-final qualification, beating two of the three co-medalists. He knocked out Richard Hopwood of Phoenix, Ariz., in the second round, and eliminated Harlan Stevenson of Long Beach, Calif., in the third.

In the fourth round, he triumphed over Felix Claveran, Stockton, Calif., 3 and 2. Claveran had just ousted Don Essig III of Indianapolis, the 1957 champion, 1-up.

MORTY MEEKLE RECRUITED By DICK CAVALLI

WILLIE YAMATO A PILOT IN THE REACTIVATED JAPANESE AIR FORCE, IS STATIONED AT THE TUCKER'S BASE

OKAY, WILLIE...I'LL MAKE A STOP IN TOKYO BEFORE MEETING EASY AT THE AIRPORT

ALL BUT TWO U-2 PLANES HAVE LEFT THIS BASE. MAJOR TUCKER, MAYBE YOU HOP OFF SOON, TOO?

MAYBE... THEY WERE MOVED OUT OF JAPAN, SINCE THAT U-2 INCIDENT IN RUSSIA. WE CAN'T OPERATE 'EM FROM JAPAN AND RISK RED REPRISALS ON THIS BASE!

I HEAR YOU WATCHED EACH U-2 TAKE OFF LIKE A HAWK, WILLIE! WHY?

EACH TIME I WAS AFRAID IT WAS YOUR PLANE! I WILL MISS YOU, MAJOR, IF YOU GO!

BUT WILLIE HAD WATCHED MUCH MORE THAN THAT!

Y-YES, MR. BOOMER.

WHAT'S HE SO WORKED UP ABOUT?

I DON'T KNOW— BUT HE SURE SOUNDED MAD.

DICK I CALLED

I WANT TO KNOW WHO SIGNED MY NAME TO A NAVY ENLISTMENT BLANK!

MEEKLE! I WANT EVERYBODY HERE IN MY OFFICE RIGHT AWAY!

WELL, I DIDN'T MIND AT FIRST—

---BUT LATELY IT'S BECOME PRETTY DRAFTY!

MY WIFE TELLS ME YOU HAVE A GENIUS IN THE FAMILY, BEAN!

WELL--LL, UH, ...HEH HEH...

I WOULDN'T CALL HIM EXACTLY A GENIUS... THE WAY YOU MEAN IT!

YEAH! SAME WAY WITH OUR YOUNG-STER, PUG! TEACHER, MY FOOT!

HA! THE WAY MOTHERS LIKE TO EXAGGERATE, HUH?

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS MOTHER KNOWS BEST By MERRILL BLOSSER

MOM WON'T LET ME EXPERIMENT IN THE HOUSE! I HAD TO SET UP MY CHEMISTRY LAB IN THE GARAGE!

ISN'T THAT OKAY?

WELL, I DIDN'T MIND AT FIRST—

---BUT LATELY IT'S BECOME PRETTY DRAFTY!

MY WIFE TELLS ME YOU HAVE A GENIUS IN THE FAMILY, BEAN!

WELL--LL, UH, ...HEH HEH...

I WOULDN'T CALL HIM EXACTLY A GENIUS... THE WAY YOU MEAN IT!

Disorders Short of Violence Planned by Communist Party

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Communist Party USA has carefully planned a series of disorders "just short of violence" as the Democratic and Republican national conventions reach their climaxes.

Top-flight Red organizers have been at work both in Los Angeles and Chicago for several weeks.

Word has gone out to Communists all over the West Coast from San Diego to San Francisco to Portland to Seattle to converge on Los Angeles before the Democratic convention closes. Midwest and Eastern Communists will be ordered to the Republican National Convention at Chicago.

The orders tell the Reds to secretly join with groups of Negroes and anti-atom-bomb-testing demonstrators outside the Convention halls, whip them up enough to cause trouble and attract nationwide attention.

The object: to keep the public stirred up on the Negro issue and to arouse as much public sentiment as possible against U.S. testing of atom weapons.

Negro leaders have found out about the Communist plans. They're deeply worried. As a result, they're making plans of their own. Major conclusion: have husky men picked to watch for and throw out any Communists that try to join the Negro demonstrations.

With the Negroes and other groups forewarned, it's possible that the Reds' attempts to provoke disorders will fail completely.

But the U.S. Communists have orders from Moscow telling them to do everything within their power to prevent the U.S. from resuming atomic tests.

Boyle's Substitute

Red-blooded Pipe Smokers Expected to Launch Protest

AP staff writer Hugh Mulligan, writing in this space on Wednesday, said it was high time some high-minded crusader took out after pipe smokers. Mulligan, assuming the crusader's role, did so. In this article, staff writer George Cornell, a pipe smoker, takes off after Mulligan.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—All red-blooded citizens will rise to protest the attack that has been made on that noble comforter, the pipe.

It is an American institution. It is a source of calm, benevolence and peace. It is a well of inspiration and a thing of beauty. Those who know the finer joys of tobacco are the pipe smokers. The pipe is a steady companion and friend, a faithful counsellor. Let it be said, at the outset, that the pipe is an ancient bulwark of culture; the cigar and cigarette relatively modern upstarts.

The pipe is an instrument of gracious esteem. It receives care and affection. It is a thing of permanence, value and distinction. You do not devour, or inhale the smoke of a pipe. You savour it.

It imparts a temperate outlook in the spirit of its user—an awareness that the blessings of life should not be abused, that they deserve respect and concern.

It is thus that the pipe instills trust, encourages contemplation and a reflective, balanced view of life. It is the handmaiden of thought and creativity. It has enlarged the mind of man.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh sang the glories of the pipe to the courts of Europe, it has given inspiration and solace to poets, philosophers, statesmen, dramatists and historians.

The pipe is the builder of dreams. Complaints about its scent are absurd. The air of any room is fallow and without life until it has been sweetened by the fragrance of some delicate pipe mixture.

There is almost a religious element about a pipe. In fact, it had its first uses in the ancient ceremonies of the Mayans in Mexico and Muskogee Indians of southwestern America, those wise and stout-hearted men.

It was the "pipe of peace," that great Calumet adorned with eagle feathers, that signified the restoration of amity among the tribes.

A supply of good, old briars, with the incense wafting through the halls, would probably do more for restraint and patience in world diplomacy than any other contribution.

Hal Boyle, a cigar smoker, is on vacation.

Firm Date Set For Boys Club Dinner Meeting

The community dinner meeting for the local club of the Boys Clubs of America has been set for Monday, Sept. 19, at 6:45 p.m., and will be held at the Sacred Heart Cafeteria.

Plans for the dinner were made at a meeting called this week by John E. "Bud" Brown, temporary chairman.

An enthusiastic discussion was held on accomplishments of committees so far and suggestions and ideas on the Boys' Club for this community were heard.

Plans were also discussed for the organizational meeting to be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Broadway Presbyterian Church at which time Bob Coleman, representative of the Boys' Clubs of America, will be present to assist in the planning.

Attending the meeting Wednesday noon were: Brown, Omer West, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, John Talbot, Ed Ertel and Cliff Barr.

And they also want to stir up enough trouble to keep the pot boiling strongly on civil rights, making what they can on that issue.

So word has gone out to Communist organizations and front groups through the U.S. to be at Los Angeles and Chicago before the conventions end.

The orders are explicit. They say:

Round up all the available men and women you can and get them into these demonstrations as individuals—not groups—to agitate, foment, create disorder short of violence.

When you join with these demonstrators and picketers don't—by all means—identify yourselves as Communists.

Don't allow anyone to gain the impression the Communist Party is in any way participating.

The Communists meanwhile have started actively on their new program to infiltrate the two major political parties. They were successful in getting one Communist elected an official delegate to one of the two major party conventions.

They caught one major party Congressional District convention unaware and pushed through an anti-atom-bomb resolution. Later, the convention rescinded the resolution.

Easy Solution For Problems Of Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Do you suffer from the overweight, migraine, gastric discomfort, arthritis, congestion and depressive effects of national political conventions?

This week 6 out of 10 Americans do.

It's time we did something about it. After a crash research program, conducted at great personal risk and sacrifice through five conventions, I am now authorized to offer this cure. Henceforth, in all national political conventions, I would:

Limit all demonstrations to 46 seconds and participation to one man over 70 playing a kazoo.

Eliminate all extroverts in funny hats, amateur photographers, sleepers, readers, aisle minglers, late-comers, celebrity clutcheders and television camera hogs—which does not quite mean all the politicians and delegates.

Require all nominating speeches to be mailed, not spoken, to the convention by fourth class mail and all seconding speeches be limited to the adjectives one can get on the back of a postcard.

Eliminate all the rejects from actors' studios who are hired for the demonstrations and all the amateurs recruited for the same purpose because they wear lamp shades at parties.

Make it a felony to say, more than 22 times an hour, "man of proven courage and ability," "challenge of our times," "world at the crossroads," and "America cries out for."

Eliminate all fractional delegates. If a whole delegate can't get here, the heck with him. Half delegates confuse the vote count.

Limit the playing of "Dixie" to half dozen times an hour. Ditto Texas, "The Eyes of" same and its yellow rose.

Make it a felony to slow up the work of the republic during a vote count by elaborate references to "cool Colorado" and "the Granite State of New Hampshire" and "Washington, the vacation paradise and builder of Rose Bowl champions."

Eliminate signs in the basement of the convention hall which say "To rest rooms" but which lead to other signs saying "Area closed."

Limit all spectator tickets to mutes.

British Diplomats Seek Guards Against Provoking US Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—British diplomats were quietly pressing today for tighter safeguards against possible incident-provoking flights by American military planes from English soil without Britain's knowledge.

The White House announced Thursday night that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have agreed to talk now under way between British embassy and State Department officials.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty called the negotiations a review of the present working arrangements on American bases in Britain with a view to "any possible improvements in coordination."

Impetus for the talks comes from Macmillan, who has been under pressure at home to make sure U.S. planes do not zoom away on unusual flights from Britain without their hosts knowing about it.

The present U.S.-British understanding on bases was reached in 1951 between President Truman and Prime Minister Clement Attlee. A joint statement by Truman and Winston Churchill, Attlee's successor, confirmed the deal the following year.

Since then aircraft have advanced a long way and East-West tensions have reached a new stage. The Soviets swung into a new cold war offensive after downing an American U2 spy plane deep inside their territory. On July 1 they claimed to have shot down a British-based American RB47 craft invading Soviet airspace. Washington said the plane was outside Soviet territory.

House is Racially Mixed Neighborhood Blasted and Burned

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A house nearing completion in a Negro settlement of a racially mixed community near here was blasted and burned late Thursday night. No injuries were reported.

Hamilton County police said they were investigating the incident.

J.L. Espey, a teacher at a city high school for Negroes, said he was building the home for a son due for discharge from the Army next month.

Espey is a member of a family that lost a vacant four-room house in a mysterious fire in the same settlement about two years ago.

The area during that period was the scene of a dynamiting of a restaurant for Negroes, the burning of crosses, and two incidents of gunfire directed into houses occupied by Negroes.

Espey estimated the latest damage at near $8,000.

Louise Steward and Alma Matthews, his sisters who live nearby, said they had heard an explosion near midnight Thursday. The fire occurred about 30 minutes later.

Espey said the house was to have been the home of his son, Specialist 4.C. Arthur J. Espey, who has been in the Army for four years and now is stationed at Ft. Stewart, Ga. The soldier is married and has a son.

Skydiver Plummets; Chute Failed to Open

SANTA PAULA, Calif. (AP)—A young Navy man dived from a light plane Thursday over the Santa Clara River bottom, planning to pull the ripcord of his parachute at the last moment.

The chute didn't open. Witnesses on the ground saw John Derby, 22, of Redding, Calif., twisting and moments before he hit the ground. He died five minutes later without being able to tell what went wrong.

Derby, stationed at nearby Point Mugu Naval Missile Center, made a hobby of skydiving this is the parachuting sport in which jumpers perform acrobatics in the air before pulling their ripcords.

Polaris Is Fired Ok; Tube Underground

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Polaris missile was fired successfully from an underground tube early today in the missile's final tuneup for key launchings from a nuclear submarine.

The Navy announced the missile achieved all objectives in scooting more than 1,000 miles down the Atlantic missile range. A major goal was to check the performance of the Polaris' sensitive inertial guidance system.

Comedy Duo Is Diproving TV Saturation Theories

ROSSI, ALLEN (right): Stars off TV.

By DICK KLEINER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A fast-rising comedy team is disproving the widely held belief that nowadays you have to be exposed on TV over a long period of time before you can become a top star.

These two — (Marty) Allen and (Steve) Rossi — have only been on TV twice in their affiliated lives. They appeared in two guesting shots with Perry Como last winter and spring. They helped, of course, but Allen and Rossi think the help was very limited.

"TV is over-rated as far as making stars," says Marty Allen. "A good average comedian could go along for years, making a decent living, even if he never was seen on TV."

They teamed up a year ago. Allen, the older of the two, had a long record as a comic, both as a single and part of a team. He's short, stocky and has a face that always reminds people of other people. In fact, he keeps track of who he's told he looks like (Alan Carney is leading, closely followed by Harpo Marx and Jimmy Savo).

Rossi, a handsome 26-year-old, grew up from the Mitchell Boy Choir to recording fame. At the time he met Allen he was the production singer in a Las Vegas hotel.

Today, just about a year after their first meeting, they're headlining at the Copacabana here. For fresh talent, this is quite a coup. And they felt they made it this far, this fast on the strength of their talents, not because of two shots with Como.

So far, a definite Allen and Rossi style has not materialized. They do a bit of Martin and Lewis' type of act (Rossi sings, Allen mugs); they have borrowed from Bob Hope and others by using topical gags; they pantomime, dance clown; they use brief skits. Everything has their own individual stamp, of course.

As for their future TV plans, they just shrug. If something good comes along, fine, but they're not worrying about it. They flatly refuse to work the Jack Parr Show, unless they're on Paar's panel—they figure a five-minute spot doing part of their act could hurt them, especially if Paar takes it into his head to amake some crack.

They fell their future is in the top nightclubs, plus perhaps movies and or Broadway (Rossi could be a singing leading man with Allen as the comedy relief).

There are other reasons they don't worry. Allen is married to the reservations clerk at one of the biggest resort hotels in the Catskills — "So we always have a room," Marty says. And Rossi writes songs, many in collaboration with Paul Anka.

Marty Allen almost discovered Anka. While playing in Canada,

Johnson Is Kennedy's Running Mate

Monroe Doctrine Still Stands

Warns Khrushchev to Stay Out of West Hemisphere

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States denounced Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in blistering language Thursday and warned him to stop trying to foist communism on the Western Hemisphere.

It accused Khrushchev of trying to supplant with a "Bolshevik doctrine" the historic Monroe Doctrine which guards Latin American republics against outside intervention.

In solemn words, approved by President Eisenhower, the State Department reaffirmed U.S. determination to uphold the 173-year-old Monroe Doctrine in the face of Khrushchev's rocket-rattling threats to intervene to help Cuba.

"This naked menace to world peace, brandished so callously by the Soviet leader, reveals the hypocrisy of his protestations in behalf of peace," the department said in a formal statement.

The State Department's reply to comments Khrushchev made at a Kremlin news conference Tuesday added up to one of the most biting indictments leveled at him since the blow-up of the Paris summit conference in mid-May.

To back up what appeared to be a new tough-talk policy the State Department called off civil aviation talks with the Soviet Union which are due to begin here Monday.

Khrushchev's newest barrage of threats and distortions, the department said, has worsened the international atmosphere to the point where there is no chance for an aviation agreement. A department spokesman said "a suitable time" for rescheduling the talks would depend of Moscow's future conduct.

The surprise collapse of the discussion came just as a Soviet delegation was about to leave Moscow, hoping to negotiate for direct Moscow-New York commercial air service by planes of both countries.

The State Department concentrated its 500-word comment mainly on Khrushchev's attack on the Monroe Doctrine.

In pledging to back Cuba in its dispute with the United States, Khrushchev denounced the American naval base at Guantanamo Bay as "sheer inequity."

"We consider that the Monroe Doctrine has outlived its time, has outlived itself, has died, so to say, a natural death," Khrushchev said.

Striking back at this, the department pictured Khrushchev as seeking to set himself up as a self-appointed judge of what international agreements are binding, even though the Soviet Union is not a party to them.

The right to establish and maintain a naval base in Cuba is spelled out by a treaty. The Monroe Doctrine likewise has been endorsed by the 21 American republics within the framework of the Organization of American States and the 1947 Rio defense pact.

President Monroe laid down his famous doctrine in 1823 in a move to prevent European imperialist powers of that day from jeopardizing the independence of nations in the Western Hemisphere.

Four Accused In Connection With Ambush

Cardarella, Ferina Charged With Firing 6 Shots at Sheetz

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A federal grand jury Thursday accused four Omaha and Kansas City men in connection with the ambush shooting of a witness in a narcotics case.

The four are Anthony Biase, 52, Omaha, already under indictment accusing him of eight narcotics violations; Carlton A. Young of Kansas City, Kan.; and Anthony J. (Tiger) Cardarella and Felix (Little Phil) Ferina, Kansas City hoodlums.

They were accused in the shooting of Kenneth Bruce Sheetz, Kansas City ex-convict who testified before the federal grand jury that indicted Biase on the narcotics charges in Omaha on March 20.

Thursday's indictment alleged Cardarella, 34, accompanied by Ferina, also 34, fired six shots at Sheetz in an effort to kill him so he could not testify against Biase when the latter come to trial.

Sheetz was wounded critically by three of the bullets at his home June 20.

Biase is accused of conspiracy in the attempted murder of Sheetz.

Young allegedly tried to persuade and intimidate Sheetz from testifying against Biase. The grand jury said Young's activities occurred between April 1 and April 30.

Ferina and Cardarella were indicted Tuesday by a Jackson County grand jury on charges of attempted murder in the Sheetz case. They are free under $50,000 bonds on those indictments.

The federal grand jury returned 13 other indictments Thursday. They involved Kansas City residents accused of operating pin ball machines as gambling devices without having a federal license.

The grand jury was released by U.S. Dist. Atty. Edward L. Scheufler who said it will be recalled in a few weeks to complete work on some cases and to consider some new business.

Injured Airman Dies; Body Will Be Sent To Oklahoma Home

William J. Hughes, 24, Ticker, Okla., died Wednesday night at the Warrensburg Medical Center from injuries received early Wednesday in a one-car accident on Highway 50. He had been in the service for six years and was stationed at Whiteman AFB.

Hughes had been traveling west on the highway when a rear tire blew out, causing him to lose control of the car. It overturned, crossed the median of the divided highway and came to rest in the eastbound lane of traffic, 504 feet from the point of blowout. Hughes was thrown 94 feet beyond the car.

The body was taken to the Brauning Funeral Home in Warrensburg, and will be shipped to Ticker, where his widow, Myrna, and his father, George Hughes, live.

Negro Officials Taunted by Crowd

Congo's Premier Is Slapped In the Face by an European LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Premier Patrice Lumumba was slapped in the face by an angry European at the airport here Thursday night as he and President Joseph Kasavubu were about to board a plane. Both were taunted by an angry European crowd.

The incident passed without major violence.

The pair then flew off to Stanleyville, where, some reports said, they might seek to set up a new Congo capital now that this capital is under Belgian troop control.

When they appeared at the airport Lumumba and Kasavubu were booed by the European crowd.

"Murderer, traitor, raper," some shouted at them.

Then the crowd broke into shouts of, "To your knees, to your knees."

Lumumba remained serious but impassive and Kasavubu was silent as their Belgian pilot tried to pacify the crowd.

Reports that Lumumba had announced the breaking of diplomatic relations with Belgium were denied Thursday night by Lumumba's chief of cabinet.

An announcement that the Congolese government had broken relations with Belgium was made in the Belgian House of Representatives in Brussels.

The Congo awaited the arrival of U.N. forces scheduled to arrive by Saturday.

Speculation they might try to establish a new capital in Stanleyville raised the possibility of this split in the Congo: 1. Leopoldville under control of Belgian troops, 2. Elisabethville, capital of the rich Congo province of Katanga where Premier-President Moise Tshombe has said he is seceding from the Congo and will rely on Belgian troops rather than U.N. forces, and 3. Stanleyville as possible headquarters for Lumumba and his government.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche said he expects troops to start arriving by Saturday and his announcement appeared to be generally welcomed. A consensus held that only a strong force under a U.N. banner can restore order.

Many Belgians expressed regret that there will be no American troops.

The slapping of Lumumba and the earlier honor guard snubbing by Lumumba and Kasavubu provided rare spectacles in international relations.

Belgian units took over this capital city Wednesday in the absence of Kasavubu and Lumumba, after a skirmish that freed the airport from control of the mutiny-ridden Congolese army.

An honor guard of Belgian paratroopers was drawn up for inspection by the two Congolese leaders when their small plane landed, ending a trip unexpectedly bottled by the plane crew.

Kasavubu and Lumumba refused to go near the paratroopers. Instead they started walking half a mile to the airport building. They got about 50 yards, then slowed.

The Belgians offered them a car. They refused.

"We have our own army and we don't need any protection."

As UN Peace Task Force

Volunteer African Troops to the Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Volunteered African troops were being lined up quickly Thursday under the blue and white U. N. banner to try to stop the Congo's lunge toward anarchy. A force of 2,500 to 3,000 is expected.

Within hours after the Security Council gave him the go-ahead, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld received offers of contingents from Ghana and Tunisia. Both were reported ready to move immediately and become the vanguard of a unique peace task force.

Hammarskjöld was reported to have asked the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, Italy and India to supply food and transport.

In Newport, R. I., Thursday, President Eisenhower authorized the immediate shipment of 300 tons of flour to the strife-ridden Congo.

The President said the shipments will be flown to Leopoldville and assigned from stocks available in Europe.

Hammarskjöld also named a commander for the new Congo U.N. emergency force and ordered him to take up his duties Sunday. He is Maj. Gen. Carl von Horn of Sweden, now commander of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Palestine.

Von Horn, 57, two years ago succeeded Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, when the latter resigned as truce supervisor to give full time to command of U.N. troops in the Gaza Strip.

Hammarskjöld approached five African governments on possible troop contributions—Ghana, Tunisia, Guinea, Mali and Morocco. Informed quarters said the last three had not replied late Thursday.

These developments came amid reports that the situation in the Congo was worsening. The central issue was the continued presence of Belgian troops in the country. The Security Council voted early Thursday morning to call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops but Belgian officials insist they intend to pull out only the metropolitan troops flown in after the current crisis began.

The Congo U.N. force is the second of this type but different as to mission from the previous. The first was the Middle East force established in the 1956 Suez crisis to separate the invading British-French-Israeli forces from the Egyptians. The Mideast force costs about 19 million dollars a year.

Only One of 58 on Plane Dead

Following Training Prevents Fatalities

MANILA (AP) — "All I know is we reacted the way we were trained," said Capt. Dave Rall, whose speedy action was credited with saving the lives of all but one of 58 persons aboard an American airliner that ditched in pre-dawn darkness in the Philippine Sea Thursday.

Three minutes after the burning Northwest Orient Airlines DC7C hit the water 85 miles northeast of Manila, everyone was out of the plane. Four minutes later it sank.

This crash occurred eight minutes after a Philippine Airlines DC3 ditched in shallow water off Negros Island at the opposite end of the Philippine island chain. Its 27 passengers and 3 crewmen all reached shore safely. The plane ran out of gas when weather prevented its scheduled landing at Zamboanga City on a flight from Manila.

Rall, 53, of Seattle, Wash., said it was his first accident in 18 years as a pilot.

The plane developed trouble about 3:45 a. m. when a racing engine on the left wing failed to respond. The propeller tore loose and ripped into the side of the plane. Rall ordered the passengers into the rear compartments and prepared to ditch.

"The left wing was burning all the way from 9,000 feet down," Rall said. "It took about five to seven minutes for the plane to get down to the water. The plane hit in a more or less landing position. It took not more than three minutes to evacuate everyone. The plane sank seven minutes after it was ditched."

Mrs. Clyde Kelley, a Springfield, Ohio, high school teacher on a two-month world tour with her husband, was killed in the crash. Her body was found floating in the water.

The survivors were suffering from shock and bruises. They were treated, fed and given dry clothing at a U.S. Navy hospital. They had been tossed five hours on rough seas in rubber life rafts before they were picked up by U.S. military amphibious planes.

The plane was making a final stop at Manila on a flight from New York via Seattle, Anchorage, Tokyo and Okinawa.

He Will Campaign Vigorously

Nixon Sees Kennedy As a Formidable Foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon sized up Sen. John F. Kennedy Thursday as a highly formidable opponent against whom he will campaign vigorously across the country.

His news secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Nixon will carry his fight against the newly nominated Democratic candidate for the presidency into all the 50 states, speaking personally in as many as he can before November election.

Big Turnout For Annual Tipton Fair

The annual Tipton Fair got underway Wednesday with an unusually good first-day turnout, apparently motivated by ideal weather.

Swine and sheep shows were held during the afternoon, and the cattle show was held last night.

Winners in the swine show were E. C. and Kenny Howard, California, showing the champion Hampshire ram; R. E. Kirchner, Syracuse, showing the champion Hampshire ewe, the best sire and three of that sire's offspring, and the best flock—one ram and three ewes. All of Kirchner's winners were Hampshire sheep.

Winners in the swine show were Carl Allee, Tipton, showing the champion Spotted Poland China boar; Clemin Bros., California, showing the champion Chester White sow, the champion Chester White boar and two sows; Don Strobel, California, showing the champion Duroc barrow, 170-200 pound class; Loy Allee, Tipton, showing the champion Spotted Poland China barrow, 200-230 class; Clemin Bros. showed the best pen of three market barrows, which were Chester Whites.

The Tri-County Horseshow will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night. This is limited to competition from Moniteau, Morgan and Cooper counties. Friday and Saturday nights' horse shows will be open to all comers.

Herman Knipp is president of the fair, and Jim Thiel is secretary. Music is being provided by the Tipton High School band, with Ray Johnson directing.

First Methodist Roof Of Entrance Damaged

The roof of the Osage Street entrance of the First Methodist Church was damaged Wednesday morning when four large pieces of granite slipped loose from their long-time places on an uppermost eave and fell to the roof.

One of the huge blocks drove a seven-by-four-foot hole in the roof; one made a smaller hole; the other did no damage.

Repairs were being made today by the Cramer and Schrader Construction Company. The Rev. Roy Stribling was not available for an estimate on the cost of the damages.

Texan Nominated By Acclamation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democrats Thursday night named Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas by acclamation as their vice presidential nominee.

A motion by Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts that this be done was declared carried on a voice vote although there was also a loud roar of "No's."

Some booing came when Chairman Leroy Collins declared the motion passed.

There had been grumbling from ultra liberals when Sen. John F. Kennedy had made known hours earlier that he wanted Johnson for his running mate.

Yet moments after the boos there was a whooping ovation when Johnson came onto the platform with his wife, Lady Bird Johnson, by his side.

Johnson got a big hand again by congratulating the delegates on "your decision last night" when they picked Kennedy for the presidential nomination over Johnson's bid.

Johnson pledged he would go down the line in support of Kennedy, serving him in every way he could.

"Whatever capacities I have will be available always for the service of my country and my party," Johnson said.

Proclaiming that the party is united, Johnson said, "We have resolved our differences."

"We have the will to win. We have the people to do it." Johnson held up a "V" for victory as he posed for photographers with his wife and one of their daughters, Lucy Bird. The second daughter, Linda, missed out because she went to Disneyland Thursday and didn't get word in time that her father was Kennedy's choice to run with him.

The Massachusetts senator was building a combination aimed to weld party unity for the battle with the Republicans—a New England liberal in the No. 1 spot and a Southerner — or Westerner — with more conservative leanings in the No. 2 spot.

The convention knew what it was supposed to do, and needed only the arrival of the hour to perform it.

But some were unhappy about it.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, which caucused on the Johnson selection, said Michigan would have preferred others to Johnson but felt it would be futile to buck Kennedy's choice.

"The Michigan delegation feels (Please turn to page 4, column 2)

State Doesn't Intend To Seize KCP&L Co.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The state has no intention of seizing emergency control of the Kansas City Power & Light Co. unless the public's interest is jeopardized, Lt. Gov. Edward V. Long advised Thursday.

Long dropped in on negotiations between striking electrical workers and K. C. P. & L. management, and made the state's position known.

Electrical service is being maintained by supervisory employees. Clerical workers, linemen and outside workers walked out Tuesday in a contract dispute over pay, fringe benefits, work day clauses, job descriptions and sick leave.

"It is imperative," Long told negotiators, "that every effort be made to settle the controversy."

'Anybody Can Make a Mistake'

Thursday Comes and Goes Without Mercury Bomb Blast

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP) — Dr. Elio Bianca's predicted world-shattering cataclysmic blast fizzled Thursday and doomsday failed to arrive as he had forecast.

But the bearded Milan pediatrician took the reversal philosophically. "Anybody," he said, "can make a mistake."

"Be happy we were wrong," he told a crowd gathered at the salvation station halfway up Mt. Blanc, where Bianca and 100 followers had hoped to hole up while boiling seas, roiled by a "mercury bomb" explosion engulfed hapless mankind below.

Bianca had aroused people the world over with his prediction of a mystery blast that would tip the world on its axis and touch off a second deluge Thursday.

With 100 believers he set up a survival hut some 7,000 feet up Europe's tallest peak. There he and his followers, oblivious to the

Two Killed In Crash Near Versailles

Two Others Injured As Cars Collide Headon on Route 5

John W. Burkholder, 53, brother of Roy Burkholder, Route 4, Sedalia, and James Curtis Crist, 58, both of Brookfield, were killed at 6:40 p.m. Thursday in a head-on collision of two cars about three miles north of Versailles on State Highway 5.

Two other persons, William Thomas Eckert, 17, Versailles, and his two-year-old sister, Bethene Sue Eckert, were severely injured. William Thomas reportedly suffered a broken leg and possible internal injuries, and Bethene Sue was believed to have suffered a fractured pelvis, bruises and lacerations of the face, and a scalp injury. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital in Jefferson City.

Burkholder and Crist were traveling together in a 1967 Buick. It could not be determined last night in which direction they were traveling, nor who was driving the car.

Eckert was driving a 1955 Ford, with his sister a passenger.

Highway Patrolman Donald Slevin investigated the accident.

The bodies of the victims were taken to the Kidwell Funeral Home, Versailles.

A coroner's inquest will be held sometime today in Versailles.

Besides his brother of Sedalia, Burkholder is survived by a nephew, Bill Burkholder, Sedalia; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Burkholder, three brothers, and one sister, all of Brookfield; and one daughter of Kansas City.

Suit Is Filed Against Sedalia Industrial Loan

Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., has filed suit in Federal District Court, Jefferson City, seeking $22,236 allegedly owed by the now bankrupt Precision Manufacturing Co. of Sedalia.

The suit is against the Sedalia Industrial Loan and Investment Co. and its president, Claude L. Boul, who have been managing the bankrupt firm.

Besides asking the amount owed, plus interest since February, 1959, when the material was delivered, the suit also asks $22,236 in punitive damages.

It charges the firm and Boul of misrepresentation in acquiring the material. The suit said with the costs of bankruptcy administration, plus payments to secured creditors of Precision, there is only an "extremely remote" chance that Jones & Laughlin can collect any money from Precision's assets.

CAPs End Encampment

Missouri Wing Trains at WAFB

BY RALPH JONES

Whiteman Air Force Base personnel for the past two weeks have been awakened by the rhythmic count of marching troops. When the Whiteman AFB airmen went off duty each afternoon, members of the Missouri Wing of the Civil Air Patrol were still training.

Under Lt. Col. Clark Johnston of St. Joseph, encampment commander, some 110 CAP cadets representing 25 different communities throughout Missouri worked long hours to complete their packed schedule of training.

The actual training ended Friday, and Friday night the cadets received certificates indicating they had completed the required training. These certificates will go along with other training certificates toward earning the eventual Certificate of Proficiency of a full-fledged Civil Air Patrol member.

At Whiteman the men got a full taste of the life of an airman. They slept in military barracks, ate in military dining halls, and trained in the use of military equipment. Last weekend, elements of the 101st Airborne Division made their Fort Leonard Wood jump-off flight from the base, and the CAP members got a chance to see and inspect some of the latest US Army combat equipment.

Last Saturday the CAP members staged a parade, which was watched by hundreds of WAFB personnel. In addition, the men received training in military courtesy and customs of the service, the chain of command, and many other subjects taught airmen in regular Air Force training programs.

A highlight of the training was a picnic last Sunday, attended by the cadets and many of their parents. Charcoal broiled steaks was the main course.

Saturday morning the 340th Bomb Wing, stationed at Whiteman, airlifted the CAPs back to key points near their homes. This was the third consecutive year the Missouri Wing held its encampment at Whiteman.

Prior to the Wing's departure from the base, Col. Johnston thanked base personnel "For the cooperation exhibited in connection with the encampment. All members of the Missouri Wing, CAP, feel that the encampment has been a success."

Four Sedalians were included in the training. They are Jerry Brown, Ronald Ridgeway, Ernie Rothganger, Eugene Rothganger and Leon Wells. They are members of the Sedalia Squadron, CAP, commanded by Maj. Jack G. Kehl.

There are two units of the CAP stationed in Sedalia — Headquarters, Group 5, commanded by Lt. Col. Billy Padgett, and the Sedalia Squadron, Group 5 consists of units in Moberly, Brookfield, Shelbyville, Jefferson City, Marshall and Sedalia. The headquarters unit consists of staff officers only, with the men in training assigned to local squadrons.

The CAP is the official Air Force Auxiliary, Padgett said, and the men wear regular Air Force uniforms with CAP insignia. The nationwide organization is set up on a regular Air Force pattern, with Wings, Groups, Squadrons, etc. following their Air Force counterpart.

SIMULATOR TIME—As part of the training given Civil Air Patrol cadets on their two week encampment at Whiteman AFB, four Sedalia boys check out on the flight simulator.

The Civil Air Patrol is made up of volunteers, Padgett said, and its beginning dates back to the early days of World War II.

Padgett said that in 1941, while he was a sergeant in the former Army Air Corps and stationed in the east, he flew with the CAP as an observer.

Padgett and the CAP pilot were assigned to observe a certain area. "We didn't know why we were to observe and report on this area at the time, but we found out later that a famous art collection had been stored in the area and we were to see that it was not destroyed."

The CAP at first had no particular mission, Padgett stated, it was just a group of people dedicated to aviation. During the war members flew observation missions, some ferried planes, and others filled in where air corps planes were not available.

From this hodge-podge of assignments, the CAP has emerged with three main missions: search and rescue, cadet training and the promotion of aviation.

In the search and rescue phase,

Padgett said the CAP saves the government thousands of dollars each year. The nationwide CAP organization takes the place of about 500 Air Force second lieutenants, and the CAP planes save many thousands of dollars in maintenance costs alone.

Padgett explained it this way. "It costs the Air Force about $300 an hour spent in search missions. It costs the CAP $4 an hour—just the cost of the gasoline used."

The cadet training program serves two purposes — it keeps young people interested in aviation, and keeps young pilots on tap for use in any emergency.

The third phase of the CAP mission keeps aviation before the public eye, Padgett pointed out that the CAP is government sanctioned, but not government supported. As the CAP is the official AF auxiliary, it is reimbursed for gas and oil expended on official AF search missions.

"When there is an emergency," Padgett stated, "the CAP rarely waits for an official call from the Air Force. The men go into action and do the job. If it is later called an official mission, the men are paid for the gasoline and oil expended. If not the men pay for it themselves."

The local CAP unit has a perpetual recruiting and training program. Boys and girls aged 15-19 may enroll and receive the regular CAP training course, which includes military courtesy, communications, first aid, basic electronics. This course has been approved on a national education level.

After the cadet completes this course to the satisfaction of CAP officials, he may enlist in the Air Force, providing he otherwise qualifies, as an airman third class (with one stripe), and be excluded from basic Air Force Training. This course includes successful completion of training programs at encampments such as the one completed last week at Whiteman AFB.

The Sedalia unit has one training plane, a Stinson L-5. The plane has been fitted out as an ambulance plane, capable of carrying one stretcher and a pilot. The plane has been used several times recently, in search and rescue missions in Central Missouri.

"The CAP is a non-profit corporation, under a national commander, manned by volunteers dedicated to flying."

By HAZEL LANG

It was early one morning, very early, about 5 o'clock, when Pam's mother woke up and heard somebody on the front porch.

"I hear some body walking on the front porch," she told her husband, who had also been awakened. He looked out the window and there was Pam. Usually you couldn't get her awake, but this morning she was up with the sun, all dressed in her little Brownie uniform, for this was,

Monday, June 27, the first day of Brownie Camp.

Even if they weren't up that early, all the little Brownies, about 50 of them, felt the same way — this was a big, wonderful day. And one of them, who found that her mother had finally been able to get a dental appointment for her looked up almost in tears: "Oh, Mother," she said, "you couldn't do that to me — not Brownie Camp Week."

Yes, indeed, it is an important event — Brownie Camp Week, when little girls, third and fourth graders, dressed in their smart little brown dresses and their little brown beanies, get on a bus that stops at whatever school their troop meets and then takes them out to the Girl Scout Camp.

There is the "Little House" with its big screened in porches and then there is the craft house, which has been named Harthel Hall, for Harry Lambirth, the first part, "Har" and Ethel Lambirth, the "thel", the couple who has done more for Scouting in Sedalia than anybody else — Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Then there is the great outdoors, a nice cleared space surrounded by beautiful woods, where on Tuesday Aubrey Moore took the little Brownies on a nature hunt. Here he taught them to identify several different kinds of trees. Mr. Moore grew up in the country in Missouri and knows the woods and many things about it. He put signs on the trees so the Brownies, when they went back by themselves, would be able to find them and learn to know those kinds of trees wherever they happened to see them.

He showed them too, how to tell poison ivy with its three leaves, and to be sure and not go near it.

From the very first day the Brownies started putting down things of nature that they saw all around them, according to the alphabet. Well, there was no trouble starting, for A stood for ants, and that was one of the things they were going to study. Then there was B for birds—that was easy. "But don't come up with zebra for Z," Mrs. Aubrey Moore, camp director told them, "because I don't think you are going to see a zebra out here." They were a long way from Z, though. They were only to C and that stands for cat and D and that stands for dog. But — that didn't work either — there wasn't a cat or a dog out at the camp, so, that wouldn't do any more than the zebra.

But such an assortment of creatures as that accumulated in little wire pens, toads, terrapin, granddaddy-long-legs, all sorts of things. And then there were the ants—lots of different kinds of ants. "How many different kinds of ants do you suppose there are in the world?" Mrs. Moore asked. One little girl guessed three, another four, another five. One even got real bold and guessed a hundred. But that was far from enough, there are 7,000.

But out at camp the Brownies were studying ants. They had ant farms, little plastic pen like things with little farm buildings, a silo, a barn and a house, and they put in it white sand—and black ants. That was a study in black and white. They found the black ants, when someone was getting fire wood and moved a great big old log. The ants picked up their belongings and fled, for they don't like to be disturbed. The Brownies gather some of them up and put them in the pen like plastic box, that was clear on the two sides so they could watch them, and green on the ends. They didn't have any trouble with the little brown ants crawling out, but the black ants didn't want to stay in. They crawled out, so the Brownies had to put lids on the plastic boxes to keep them in. The ants worked very hard carrying the sand up through the little holes, one grain at a time trying to cover up the little farm buildings. Ants, the Brownies found, are very much like people, some of them grow their own food, some of them raise insects for food, they build their homes, some are soldiers, they do all kinds of things that people do—they don't get along with other colonies of ants — but — unlike people — they do get along with their own groups.

Black ants bite, the Brownies found out. It was easy getting the little brown ants in the plastic pen, but, with the black ants it was a different story. One little girl finally found that if she used cotton she got along better, the ants feet would stick to the cotton and she could hold it until she got him in the pen.

Every day the Brownies would take a sack lunch. They would each have a little job to do and one job was seeing that the tables were scrubbed. Then somebody was supposed to get a centerpiece for the table, maybe flowers, maybe leaves, maybe pretty rocks.

But Thursday was a special day and they were going to cook out, two units joining together to do the cooking. The menu consisted of stew and 'smores. 'Smores are so named because they are so good you just always want 'smore. They are made with graham crackers, marshmallows and chocolate, which are heated causing the marshmallows and chocolate to melt.

Then the girls made sit-upons which are made of old newspapers where seven strips of newspaper

An Afternoon With Jacqueline Kennedy

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy may or may not get to the White House at 30. But if she does there will be a lot of fresh touches, and a good many original observations bouncing off the brocade walls.

Sen. John F. Kennedy's beautiful brunet wife rarely "projects" in her public appearances. But there's none of that trouble in the living room of the Kennedy's handsome old red brick Georgetown house.

Breezing in from a luncheon date in a summery chateauise linen dress, she rustled a soft drink for her interviewer and settled herself easily in a high-backed wing chair.

The talk had barely begun when the Kennedys' two-and-a-half-year-old daughter Caroline, a kitten in each arm, came in are used to weave into seven other strips of newspaper then the ends are folded under. There are about 18 inches square.

Another thing the Brownies made were scenes in shoe boxes which were something like shadow boxes. They used sand and dirt, pieces of cedar for cedar trees, rocks and then made out of molding clay little snakes, turtles and rabbits. There was a pond of alumni foil, too. They made pictures of leaves and grasses under glass, and did splatter painting.

On Thursday Mrs. Oleander Black took the Brownie Troop at Hubbard School out to be guests. Thursday was a big day, there were lots of visitors.

The girls learned the flag ceremony — and it wasn't very easy at first. But they put the flag up and took it down every day.

The camp closed at 2:30 every day and on Friday closed until next year — but it was a very wonderful Brownie Camp, everything, even to riding back and forth to camp on the bus.

"I want to take care of Caroline" to say hello. Watching her go, Mrs. Kennedy said she devotes much of her time to Caroline. "This life is very hard on a little child. She kisses her daddy good-night, and when she looks for him in the morning, he's in Oregon or some place.

"Lots of women, if they had the choice, would prefer to do the cooking and let someone else take care of the children. With me it's the other way around. I don't want to cook. I want to take care of Caroline."

Jacqueline wonders, in fact, why anyone wants to cook around their place.

"It's hard to find someone to cope with the crazy hours. And six for breakfast, five for lunch and who knows what for dinner." Though the house is well staffed with servants, she is the manage. She's also the decorator, and has given the house a casual, "airy" feel. In the adjoining sitting rooms, the walls are white, the rugs and furniture (much of it French Empire in style) generally light in tone. Her interest in period furniture keeps her hunting for new-old things. And she tries always to have the flowers fresh.

Her even greater interest in art is plain to see everywhere. Walls are adorned with drawings and prints, which she loves. Art books lie on tables or are stacked in bookcases which flank the small fireplace. Jacqueline herself does a little watercolor work.

Her taste in music runs to light things — a few show tunes, background music, some jazz. In these matters, it seems, her husband sort of rolls with the tide. He has picked up a good deal about recent furniture and drawing. Says she:

"Some day I'll give Jack a drawing. Do you know he had the nerve once to give me an original letter by John Quincy Adams? Do you know where it is now? Framed, and on HIS study wall."

"Later on he gave me a Byron letter, which was a little better. At least I like Byron."

She was laughing at this point. Independent-minded though she doesn't believe in being too assertive or obtrusive.

"What I try to do is make things as simple and easy for Jack as possible, so that his life is just a bit better for my being around."

She finds him deeply committed to his work, almost to the exclusion of other things.

"He isn't absent-minded like some people say, he's just absorbed in what he's doing. Why, that chair over there could catch fire, and if he were talking on the phone to (Ohio's Gov.) Mike DiSalle or somebody, I don't think he'd notice."

Kennedy once offered "irritability" as his prime weakness, but Mrs. Kennedy doesn't see much sign of it.

"He doesn't blow off steam around the house. I think he works it off with that madman pace of his. He relaxes easily and he can sleep anywhere. "But once he's rested, he wants to go again. He's not the sort to putter with his roses." The senator's concentration on politics doesn't prevent him from noticing her clothes. "He has good taste. He likes the simple things. I think it's nice that he pays attention. But I don't mean he's one of those Latin lover types who can tell from across the room what perfume you're using."

No Reason Is Given For Kennedy Not Thanking Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kennedy headquarters provided no explanation Thursday why Sen. John F. Kennedy omitted the name of Adlai E. Stevenson in his thank-you remarks on getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy had nice things to say about Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who opposed him and lost, and also about favorite sons who bowed out of the nomination race.

But he made no mention of Stevenson, who also was in the race.

Asked about this, Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press chief, said he had no explanation.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, who nominated Stevenson, was also asked about the non-reference to his candidate.

"I noticed that," McCarthy said. "If it was intentional, it wasn't good."

Dalton Nixes Court Order of Appointment

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton ruled today the Jefferson County court has no authority to order the appointment of a rabies control officer to be paid from public funds.

William B. Millett, Jefferson County prosecuting attorney, requested the opinion to the guidance of the county judges and the trustees of the County Health Center.

The county court had issued a quarantine order because of the prevalence of rabies. The attorney general noted such an order, by law, is to be enforced by police officers, town marshals and constables. But there is no legal authority for appointment of a special rabies control officer in third class counties.

Robert Nathan, head of the District of Columbia delegation, first decided to put up the name of Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota against Johnson. But Freeman told Nathan he did not want his name entered.

Johnson, on agreeing earlier to accept Kennedy's bid to run with him, had pledged support for the party platform which includes a strong civil rights plank.

Nevertheless, there was grumbling in the California and Wisconsin delegations among others. It was 8:28 p.m. (PT) when the call of the states began for the picking of the vice presidential nominee.

Alabama, first on the list, promptly yielded to Pennsylvania so Gov. David L. Lawrence of the Keystone State could put up Johnson.

Lawrence did so with a declaration that Johnson has been the "strongest Democratic leader in the history of the U.S. Senate."

200 Persons Burn to Death In Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP) — More than 200 persons were burned to death Wednesday night in a fire in a Guatemala City insane asylum.

Authorities said the number of dead might rise to 300. The fire broke out shortly after midnight and quickly swept through the old building, which housed 1,400 inmates.

About 600 persons were trapped in the inner part of the building and firemen, police and volunteers were unable to get all of the inmates out.

The fire threatened the adjacent General Hospital, part of which was evacuated before the fire was brought under control after seven hours.

Charred remains of the victims were placed in an impromptu morgue this morning. Most of the bodies could not be identified.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Hayato Ikeda Relieves Kishi Of Leadership

TOKYO (AP) — Hayato Ikeda, an able and respected administrator but a question mark as a diplomat, Thursday took over from Nobusuke Kishi leadership of a bitterly divided liberal-Democratic party and prepared to step in as premier too.

The transfer of command from Kishi to Ikeda, remembered for the tough anti-inflation program which laid the foundation of Japan's postwar industrial boom, assured continuation of the basically pro-Western policies of the Japanese government.

An attack on Kishi by a knife-wielding ultranationalist at a victory celebration for Ikeda shocked the nation and marred the relief with which most of the country, tired of the anti-Kishi violent riots, welcomed the change over.

Kishi was stabbed six times in the left thigh by Taisuke Aramaki, 65, who told police he only wanted to injure Kishi, not kill him. The Premier was rushed to a hospital, where doctors took 30 stitches and predicted he would recover in 10 days.

Kishi, carrying out the first step of a promise made after seeing the new U.S.-Japan security pact come into force last month, resigned as president of the Liberal-Democratic party Thursday morning. In a party convention which followed, Ikeda, 60, defeated Mitshiro Ishii, candidate of an anti-Ikeda coalition, on the second ballot, 302-194.

Kansas Citizens March Against Prolonged Construction Strike

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A hundred marchers, including women and children, paraded around City Hall today in protest of Greater Kansas City's prolonged construction strike.

More than 20,000 workers have been out of work since April as a result of a series of labor disputes between unions and contractors.

Most of those picketing City Hall with placards and banners, urging an end to the shutdown were families of idled workers.

Some of the pickets staged a 30-minute sit down inside City Hall during the day's demonstration. They sat down on the floor of the lobby, then filed out again.

"They've been very orderly," a city employee said.

One of the banners proclaimed, "Kansas City, home of the A's and 20,000 hungry men." Another described Kansas City as "sick." Other signs appealed, "Please put my daddy back to work," and "Please help us eat."

Appeals Court Erases Part of Term for Ex-Wortman Associate

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday erased four years of a 10-year sentence handed a former associate of East Side racketeer bigwig Frank (Buster) Wortman for income tax evasion. The vote was 2 to 1.

Vacated was a four-year sentence given Joseph W. Yanko, one-time gambling casino doorman, covering the year 1954.

The three-judge appeals court confirmed two other convictions totaling six years; three for 1953 and three for 1956.

Yanko was convicted of evading payment of a total of $662 in federal income taxes. He had claimed deductions for two children by a previous marriage.

Judge Marion C. Matthes dissented. He maintained that an applicable section of the internal revenue code would have made Yanko's crime a misdemeanor, if it had been applied.

The majority opinion maintained the code in question did not apply in Yanko's case.

USC Coed Shot In Library By Spurned Lover

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The quiet of the University of California's main library was shattered Wednesday by two shots. One killed a 21-year-old coed, one blinded the girl's slayer in a suicide attempt.

Sonja Lillian Hoff looked up from her book to see a fellow senior from Long Beach, Calif., who had changed his name from Bertran Joseph Howk to Mohammed Abdullah. Witnesses told police Abdullah, 21, strode directly up to the blonde Berkeley girl, pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket, and fired point-blank at her forehead, killing her.

Abdullah fired a second shot into his own head. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, blinded in one eye. Hospital attendants said he was expected to live.

Friends of the dead girl said there had apparently been a one-sided love affair and that Miss Hoff had told Abdullah to leave her alone.

Necessity Is Mom Shoe Lace Gadget

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An East Lansing man thinks he has solved the knotty problem caused when children's shoes come untied.

Charles S. Ruffing, an educational television specialist at Michigan State University, found necessity the mother of invention.

He and his wife have four small children and the shoe laces just wouldn't stay tied.

Ruffing perfected a small clip-like gadget that snaps over the top of the shoes and holds the laces securely.

A dime store chain and a large drug organization placed sizable orders after a shoe firm ran consumer tests showing the gadget was well received in Detroit.
